Corridor study, comprehensive plan not pre-zoning maps

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

An update on the progress being made on the Route 173 corridor study did more than bring the plan commissioners up to date. It served as a reminder that any proposed plans are just that and are not intended to serve as a pre-zoning zoning map.

A presentation was made by several of the consultants hired to assist the village with a Route 173 corridor plan that is available on the village's web site www.antioch-il.org.

"This will ultimately become a revision of the Comprehensive Plan," said Silhan. "There is a difference between a plan and zoning map."

He further explained that a "plan" will offer a long range view of what the corridor might look like while a zoning map is merely a snapshot of a particular segment in time of any given area.

"You're missing the whole point if you use the Comprehensive Plan as a pre-zoning zoning map," he said.

Additionally, Silhan clarified that the meeting with the combined plan commission and zoning board was a workshop discussion and not a public hearing.

Silhan said at the last meeting, held specifically to garner public input, that the most discussed item was traffic.

"Traffic came up more than anything else," he said. "The main comment was 'don't develop until the roads are widened,' but IDOT (Illinois Department of Transportation) doesn't do that. IDOT doesn't build until the need is there."

Valerie Kretchmer, who's firm was hired to complete a market assessment, said the projected growth to the area is expected to be 72 percent by the year 2020, and that the majority of that population increase will be in the area of Deep Lake Road.

She recommended keeping retail at key intersections such as Deep Lake Road, Savage Road and Route 45. "You want to avoid a continuous strip of retail along (Route) 173, but lots of curb cuts aren't very attractive either," she said.

Kretchmer discussed residential uses in the area. "There's going to be a lot of call for townhouses, condos and upscale apartments for the 55 plus crowd with walk-able development."

She noted that Lake County would like to make the Abbott property, east of Route 45, the corporate campus of the area. "Right now, some of this is being lost to Pleasant Prairie across the border and the county doesn't like this," she said.

Mark Baker, of SEC Consultants, said, "We want to solicit input from the public and the commission as to what you want to see in this corridor. We want everybody to take a sense of ownership in this plan."

In short, plan commissioners concurred the "do nots" shown by way of photos throughout the presentation were glaring and favored parkways, walkways, fewer curb cuts and keeping the small industrial development on the Route 83 corridor.

Resident Kathleen Shay said her family has lived in Lake County since 1857. "This plan is impoverished," she said. "This will just be another obstacle course to get home. I don't see anything creative about this."

Baker explained this study isn't just about land use, but about the "visual experience" of traveling from the tollway to downtown Antioch. Kretchmer added that some of the presentation was to show existing conditions and not the future of the area.

Unclear this is the first of three phases of study, Shay complained the study wasn't conclusive.

Trustee Scott Pierce, sitting in the audience said, "We're trying to plan realistically for what's going to happen into the future. We're going to tie all of these corridor studies together. We have to know what's going on (currently) before we can plan."

When the Route 173 corridor study is complete, the village will study the Route 83 corridor and finally Route 173 as it heads west toward Fox Lake and Spring Grove.

Finding answers to tragedy in a puzzle

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

Lake Villa residents Victor and Debbie Giampietro were so stunned by the devastating loss of the space shuttle Columbia last February that they literally went to pieces to find a meaningful way to help.

Victor Giampietro, owner of Argus Printing in Niles, decided to combine his printing talents, his wife's design talents and their love of jigsaw puzzles to do something constructive in the wake of destruction. "I was driving to work when I heard about it on the radio,"

Giampietro said. "I was stunned. I remember thinking, 'This can't happen twice!'"

He remarked that, up until then, most people probably took the shuttles for granted, "almost like commercial flights."

His sense of helplessness in the face of the tragedy led him to do some research on the shuttle. What he learned impressed him, and strengthened his determination to do something worthy of the sacrifices made by the astronauts.

"Seven astronauts had 80 experiments to perform," he said.

He decided to find a way to pay tribute to the shuttle and its crew as well as raise funds to support both the work that NASA was doing on that flight as well as the families of the crewmembers. He also wanted to create something that would bring families together, "instead of watching television or playing video games."

His wife, Debbie, is a freelance designer. She got NASA's cooperation in obtaining a stunning photograph of the Columbia lifting off.

She made a photo collage of that image, along with the mission patch

Sheriff's office scouts for boat in hit, run

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Though there were no serious injuries in a hit-and-run boating accident on Grass Lake, July 3, the Lake County Sheriff's Office is investigating the incident and searching for the offending boat.

"Two people were hurt in the accident," said Sgt. Gary Govekar. "One passenger was thrown overboard and had an injury to his eye and a girl had minor injuries to her right arm and shin."

Govekar said neither victim was hurt badly and both are fine.

Reportedly, the victims' boat was traveling north on Grass Lake when the offending boat, traveling southbound, crossed over the lake body and sideswiped the victims' boat. The accident happened at 11:15 p.m. on the Thursday prior to the Fourth of July.

"The boat stopped a little ways away and looked, and then took off again," said Govekar. "Just like being in a car accident, you're supposed to stop and exchange information."

The boat is described as a cabin motorboat with a red-colored hull.

Govekar said, "Paint samples were taken off the victims' boat and the crime lab can test the paint of a suspected boat to see if it matches. All paints are just a little different in make up."

The marine unit of the Lake County Sheriff's Office asked that those with information about this accident call Sgt. John Crilly at 847-587-4470.

Weekend calls heat up for fire department

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

It was no holiday for the Antioch Fire Department as it responded to more than 20 calls over the Fourth of July weekend that included the report of a tornado touch down and two possible house fires.

This was in addition to the role the department plays in ensuring residents' safety during the 5K run the parade and during the fireworks display. Chief Dennis Volling said behind-the-scenes people help the department in its efforts.

"There are a lot of people who are not in the forefront who really help things come together," he said. "Billie Horton (special events coordinator) is one of those people. She works with everybody involved to see things are done properly."

Each year, the department assists during the race by providing traffic control as well as staffing a mobile medical unit with trained emergency medical personnel and supplies an additional automatic external defibrillator to supplement what the Antioch Rescue Squad provides.

Deputy Chief Leonard Sakalowski, who heads the department's race involvement each year, said, "We have been working closely with the State Bank of The Lakes (race sponsor), the Antioch Police Department and that Antioch Rescue Squad to provide a positive race experience for everyone."

The fire department responded to numerous weather-related calls and the first of four auto accidents prior to the 10 a.m. parade time.

A deck collapse on the Fourth of July at about 7 p.m. was the most serious of the weekend's calls. Initial reports said two people were trapped under the collapse.

Members of the department were met by the homeowner who said her husband and child were injured in the backyard. The deck collapsed under the weight of an inflatable pool filled with water, though neither was swimming at the time.

Volling said, "This was a very busy weekend for us and our people met the challenge."

Village dedicates tree in Lindblad's honor

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

For his dedication to the Village of Antioch, a tree is being dedicated in honor of Bob Lindblad at the William E. Brook Memorial Wetland Sanctuary on July 26 at 9 a.m.

His name was synonymous with the Lakes Region Historical Society, a museum for the entire Chain O' Lakes area and not just Antioch, as preserving the local history was very important to him.

He was a WWII veteran and very active in VFW Post 4551, always making sure there was at least one scholarship competition per year for Scouts with the themes typically being about patriotism.

Additionally, Lindblad always helped with the Arbor Day festivities.

"I miss seeing Bob Lindblad's face here," said Laurie Stahl, director of the parks department for the Village of Antioch at this past Arbor Day event. "He was always here helping out with the tree giveaway and whatever else he could do."

She said an Autumn Blaze Maple tree has been planted at the front of the William E. Brook Memorial Wetland in his honor.

"We are going to have a special dedication of that tree shortly," Stahl added. "We thought it would be too difficult to do today because of the two different locations."

Trustee Dorothy Larson, chair of the parks committee, will read the dedication. Anyone wishing to attend the dedication ceremony is welcome to do so.

The sanctuary is located on Orchard east of Route 83 behind the stores that line the east side of Main Street.

"He really was a wonderful man who always had the best interests of the village at heart," said Stahl.

Village announces 4th of July winners

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Winners have been announced in Antioch's various contests, challenges and competitions that took place as part of the Fourth of July festivities.

The Girl Scouts entered the prize-winning float in Antioch's parade. Billie Horton, special events coordinator, said, "The float was a perfect 10."

Jayne Bean bakes a great pie, taking first place in the traditional apple pie contest and tying for second with Amy Henning in the Dutch apple category. Sue Lengvenis took second place in the traditional category, and Barbara Bettasso took first prize in the Dutch apple category.

For the first year, there was a golf cart decorating contest sponsored by Captain's Quarters. Jack and Betty Snyder won a set of golf clubs for their entry.

"It was great to give away a set of clubs," said Horton. "They only cost me $5 because they were plastic."

Laurie Stahl, director of Antioch's parks and recreation department, said all of the bicycles were decorated so well that first place honors went to 6-year-old Caleb Borgstrom as well as Austin Adams, 7, and his brother Alec, 5.

Brittany Sunday, 9, won the costume contest for her impression of Betsy Ross. Seven-year-old Alexis Gross's bird KiKi won for the best decorated pet.

In the sports tournaments, sponsored by the First National Bank-Employee Owned (FNBO), the American Family/Ipsen Insurance volleyball team took top honors. The team was made up of Joe Clark, Mary Ipsen, Mary Brinks and Kevin Daw.

Team SNAFU took the softball tournament. Team members included Dan Beucher, Don Edmonds, Daryl Rager, Dean Cummings, Todd Ankney, Pat Hastings, Pam Butenschoen, Jenny Barnett, Patie Karda, Kim Zabresky, Teresa Hansen, Jill Garross and Lisa Rager.

Basketball shoot-out winners include the following: Keith Huff, first place, Danny Stroching, second place in the 11 and under; Todd Rhodes, first place, Kevin Huebner, second place and Brice Lundman, third place in the 12-15 category; Zane Shelley, first place, Steve Applehans, second place and Donald Edmonds, third place in the 16-29 category.

Men taking the 30 and over category were James Rhodes, Ken Nichalk and Kevin Hauser with first, second and third, respectively. Women winners in the 19 and under category were Nikki Station, Bobbi Jean Stroening and Pam Staton in that order.

Horton said there were a number of people she wanted to thank for their assistance in ensuring all of the Fourth of July festivities went off both safely and as planned.

"I would like to thank the police department, fire department, rescue squad, the wonderful volunteers the public works department and, of course, the special events staff," she said. "I'm sorry if I missed anyone. Most of us had 16-hour days and all efforts are appreciated."

Chamber of Commerce hosts golf challenge

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

It's a scramble.

All of the golfers who attend the Chamber of Commerce and Industry's Golfer's Challenge will tee off and then play from the best spot. This fourth annual outing, on Wednesday, July 30 at the Antioch Golf Course, promises a day of fun throughout the challenge.

"We're doing things just a little differently this year," said Barbara Porch, executive director of the chamber. "We're awarding prizes to the first, fifth and last place teams so that it's not just our pros coming away with prizes. This should make it more fun for everyone."

The challenge is open to the general public as well as chamber members. The day of golf costs $60 with a cart and lunch or $85 with a cart, lunch and dinner.

Porch said, "We're delighted to be in the new facility (at the Antioch Golf Course)."

Sponsorship is high with three of Antioch's car dealerships opting to participate. "Raymond Chevrolet and Country Pontiac are each covering a hole-in-one with a one year lease on a car, and Lyons-Ryan sponsoring the beverage cart."

Challenges of the day include birdie or Bust, hole in one, mulligans, closest to the pin, longest drive and overall team scores.

For more information, call the chamber at 847-395-2233.

2002 Little Miss to appear on Leno

Set the VCRs to the "Jay Leno Show" on Friday, July 18 as Reagan Martin, Antioch's 2002 Little Miss, will be appearing to show off her creation for the Young Inventors' Program.

She entered and took a second-place regional prize in the 2003 Craftsman/NSTA (National Science Teachers Association) Young Inventors Awards Program. She was awarded a $500 savings bond for her effort.

Reagan's mom, Cindy, said, "Reagan will be appearing in a swimsuit. They (Leno Show) are making a working shower so she can show how to use the device she invented."

Reagan, who will enter third grade at WC Petty Elementary School this fall, came up with the idea for a "shower mover." It is described as a "T shaped pipe, on a straight pipe, slips over the shower head to move the water flow easily."

More than 8,000 total students competed for a chance at $5,000 in savings bonds, the amount awarded to the 12 national finalists. The 12 second-place regional winners were each awarded a $500 savings bond and the 12 third-place winners each received $250.

Cindy said Reagan would appear on the show with two other young inventors, three of the 36 prize winners.

According to Cindy, contest officials sent video interviews of all 36 winners to the syndicated talk show hosts, and Leno selected Reagan on that basis.

In the event the three young inventors are bumped for bigger celebs, they will be on the air on Monday, July 21 instead.

Look for pictures of Reagan with Leno after she appears on the program. Cindy promised to pass along pictures, provided by the network, when she receives them.

and the mission logo, all superimposed on a waving American flag.

The entire design was sent to a company that specializes in puzzle conversion.

"I learned about puzzles, too," said Giampietro, who assembles about four a year for his own amusement.

"The same die is used to cut all of them," he said. In theory, this means that one could take a piece from any puzzle, and place it in any other puzzle of the same size and number of pieces.

Giampietro's puzzle consists of 1,000 pieces. He is selling the puzzle for $14.95, with a minimum of $2 per puzzle going to either NASA's Office of biology and Physics Research or to a charity et up for the benefit of children of the Columbia crew.

He is also selling the puzzles at a discounted rate to the Adler Planetarium and the Museum of Science and Industry (both in Chicago), so they can resell the puzzles to their patrons at the same $14.95 retail cost.

Giampietro invested some $10,000 of his own money to get the project off the ground, and pay for the initial printing of 2,500 puzzles, as well as promotional costs.

As he recoups his investment, he plans to increase the proportion of proceeds going to the charities. He does not plan to profit from the venture.

The puzzles are not only available at the two museums, but also online at pictureperfectpuzzles.com, or by phone, at 877-866-PUZZ (7899).

'Quackers' raise big money for District 34 libraries

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Even after the pay out of $850 for first, second and third-prize winners in the first annual "Fire Quackers" duck race of the District 34 Educational Foundation, Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 libraries will be nearly $4,000 richer.

"I believe we sold around 950 ducks. That it is all going to the District 34 libraries," said Theresa Kovach, foundation president. "I think that this will only get better each year."

The ducks sold for $5 each, bringing in a total of $4,750.

The ducks ran between Main St. and Sequoit Creek to the Hiram Butterick Sawmill.

First prize of $500 went to Cheryl Poulos. Jeff Brock took $250 for the second-place duck and Bob Malow $100 for the third.

Raymond Chevrolet helped sponsor the event.

Secretary Kathy Johansen said, "The District #34 Education Foundation helps to support children in our community in many ways. We have established a curricular mini-grant program for the purpose of supporting innovative educational projects, approaches and ideas. The foundation sets aside money each semester for the purpose of supporting good ideas among the teaching staff."

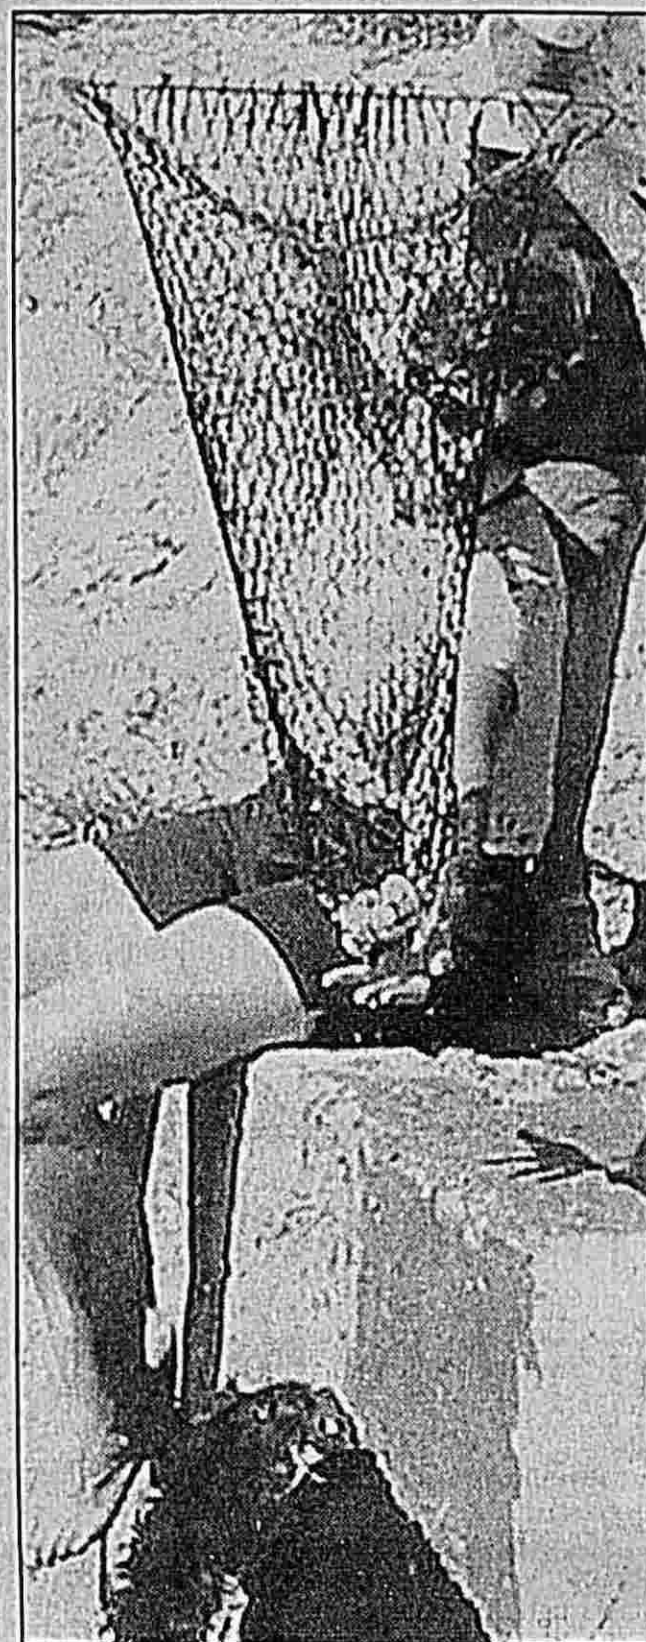

Some of the past curricular mini-grants rewarded include a third grade biography unit, fifth grade computer software titled "Inspiration," a second grade literacy program called "Ready, Set, Read!" and a river tank ecosystem housed in the Hillcrest Library.

Additionally, the foundation has sponsored children in need by providing financial help to the parents of children who would not be able to attend summer school classes or any extra curricular activities.

District #34 Education Foundation is looking for opportunities to partner with business leaders to keep its educational initiatives moving forward.

Johansen said that like many school districts across the state, the district faces the challenges of educating a fast-growing student population with a budget that is not keeping pace.

"We're asking you to consider assisting us in creating a stronger educational system for the students in our community," Johansen said.

Theresa Kovach, president of the District 34 Educational Foundation, pulls the winning duck from Sequoit Creek at the Hiram Butterick Sawmill in the first annual Fire Quackers race held on the Fourth of July.

Musolino celebrates 25 years at State Bank of The Lakes

Helen Musolino was treated to a luncheon with employees from all four State Bank of The Lakes facilities as she celebrated her 25th anniversary with the bank.

Musolino, who came from the East Coast, said she was pleasantly surprised by the friendliness shown here in the midwest. "Customers I didn't even know said 'have a good day' and they really meant it," she said. "You won't find that out east. People in the midwest are much friendlier."

She said she has no intentions of retiring anytime soon. Musolino said she thinks of the bank as her first home.

"I look forward to coming through the doors each day," she said.

Musolino worked for various savings and loan offices prior to moving to the area and working for the State Bank of The Lakes. She has spent most of her time here working in customer service.

Nearly 25 percent of State Bank of The Lakes' employees, that number more than 150, have worked for the bank upwards of 15 years.

Warrant arrest

Michael P. Hare, 23, of 8701 Antioch Rd., Salem, Wis., was arrested on warrant on July 14 at 1:17 p.m. at 413 Toft St.

He approached police wanting to surrender himself for outstanding warrants through the Lake County Sheriff's Office. A check through LEADS confirmed that he had an outstanding $25,000 warrant (10 percent applies) for driving while revoked and a second $10,000 warrant (10 percent applies) for leaving the scene of an accident.

Hare was arrested. Unable to post bond, he was transported to Waukegan for a bond hearing.

Fred Krak, a.k.a. Richard Krak, 47, of 21 E. Grand Ave., Fox Lake, was arrested on warrant on July 9 at 12:34 a.m. at 830 Main St.

An officer was dispatched to the area for a possible reckless driving offense. The car described was seen at the pump of the gas station with Krak standing next to it.

A check through LEADS revealed a possible hit on the alias Richard Krak who has an outstanding $40,000 (10 percent applies) warrant through the Lake County Sheriff's Office for fleeing or attempting to elude a police officer.

Krak was unable to post bond and place in a cell to await transport to bond court.

DUI

John P. McKinley, 41, of 41268 N. Lincoln Drive, Antioch, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on July 13 at 2:49 a.m. at 1150 Main St.

He was stopped for failing to use his headlights while it was dark outside. Though the officer had activated emergency lights, McKinley continued driving, weaving within his own lane of traffic.

The officer noticed McKinley was not wearing a seatbelt, and detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on McKinley's breath.

McKinley refused to perform field sobriety tests though the officer noted he had problems keeping his balance when he exited the vehicle.

He was arrested and issued citations for driving without headlights and DUI.

Later, McKinley refused chemical testing and was issued additional citations for operating an uninsured vehicle and failure to wear a seatbelt. Because he refused to call for bond money, he was placed in a cell to "sober up."

Suspended driver's license

James D. Caughel, 26, of 422 Donin Drive, Antioch, was arrested for driving with a suspended driver's license on July 11 at 11:54 p.m. on Route 83 at Poplar.

Police saw him driving and knew from prior contacts that his driver's license was suspended. A check through LEADS/SOS confirmed this.

Caughel was arrested and issued citations for driving while suspended and having suspended registration. He was released on personal recognizance.

LAKE VILLA

Possession of drug paraphernalia

David A. Gonzales, 30, of 117 S. Milwaukee Ave., Lake Villa, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on July 5, at 3:28 a.m., at his home address. A police officer on patrol at Milwaukee and Burnett heard a fireworks explosion coming from the direction of 117 Milwaukee. Through a large window, he observed 10-12 people in the house. He smelled gunpowder in the area. The officer shined a light into the window to let the people inside know he was nearby, then he left. Minutes later, he heard another explosion, and returned to the address. A resident of a nearby home was loudly complaining about the noise. The officer observed, through a window, a large "bong" pipe, used for smoking marijuana.

According to police, When Gonzales came to the door, he attempted to hide the bong under his shirt. He tried to hide the bong in the washing machine in a laundry room, after police asked to enter the house, put the arresting officer found it. The bong contained a residue that field-tested positive for cannabis. Gonzales was charged with possession of drug paraphernalia and obstructing justice. He was released on a $1,000 I-bond.

Queens framed

The 2002 Junior Miss Melissa Zeman, Little Miss Reagan Martin and Miss Antioch Jenifer are pictured with Mayor Taso Maravelas and Laurie Stahl, director of the parks department for the Village of Antioch. The official portrait of the queens is now hanging in the village board room of the Village Hall. Carole Olenick, of Classic Photography and Video of Antioch, donated the portrait to the village. Bob's Frame Shop in Lindenhurst donated the frame.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Haley was fired

This letter is in response to John and Dee Reeves' letter criticizing me for my remarks about the firing of Mike Haley village administrator.

Let me be the first to admit that when Haley was hired as administrator I was his biggest skeptic; however over the past two years he has proven to be one of the hardest working employees of the village. He was hired to do the day-to-day running of the village and he did it well. The job of the mayor and board is to legislate, not be involved in every minute aspect of every department. That's what we have department heads for. I said what I believed and I stand by it; he was micro managed.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves asked where I was when the dolly Spiering money was diverted. A fair question. I was the trustee who made the motion that the Spiering money be put into a special account and be used only for expenses that relate to the Senior Center. I can assure you no one on that board had an inkling that the money was not where we instructed our administrator to put it. A system of checks and balances has been put in place to hopefully prevent this from happening again.

I never intended any of my comments as a slap in the face to village residents. Instead, I wanted to make sure both sides of the story were told and that the public knew that Haley's firing was just that, not a resignation.

Church hosts interactive dinner theater

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Pull the poodle skirt out of mothballs. Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church is hosting an interactive dinner theater called "Uncle Phil's Diner" on July 18-19 that promises good food and good fun.

"This will be a fun, fun night," said Patti Stagg, communications coordinator for the church. "People will be serving the food on roller skates and the cast is going to draw people into the production."

Hamburgers and hot dogs will be the evening's fare served in '50s diner setting with music from the decade providing background entertainment. No one will be picked on who doesn't want to be, but all audience members are subject to becoming part of the production.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 and 9 p.m. on Friday night. On Saturday, there will be one lunchtime seating at 11:30 a.m. and one dinner seating at 5:30 p.m. In addition to hotdogs and hamburgers, chips and beverage will be served along with either a sundae or root beer float for dessert.

Stagg said, "We figure more young adults will be in attendance at the 9 p.m. showing on Friday and more seniors at the 11:30 a.m. showing on Saturday."

That having been said, anyone is welcome to any of the four showings.

The cost is $8 for adults and $6 for children in advance and $10 and $8, respectively, at the door.

The Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church is located just a little east of Route 83 at 23201 W. Grass Lake Road. For more information, call 847-838-0103.

Parks friends schedule summer projects

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Members of the parks board have selected the Hiram Butterick Sawmill park as the next location for its summer work session. This park is on Cunningham Drive and is visible from the Antioch Senior Center.

The session will be held on Saturday, July 26 beginning at 9 a.m. and running through noon. Residents and park users are encouraged to come with a willing attitude as well as a couple of tools to help with the clean-up effort.

"It's helpful for those who want to help out to bring their own gloves and possibly a rake or shovel or wheelbarrow," said Laurie Stahl, director of the parks department.

Each park board member is responsible for one park, and that the parks are regularly checked to see if anything is being overlooked. The park with the longest "to do" list was selected as the site of this first project.

The last summer work session will be held on Aug. 30 at Williams Park.

Stahl added, "We're hoping that people will come out in numbers between 9 a.m.-noon to help us with this project, and the other projects we have scheduled for the summer."

Friends of the Parks is open to anyone wishing to help care for and preserve Antioch's parks for residents in the years to come.

For more information, call the parks office at 847-395-2160.

Antioch's Kessler enjoys 'calling the shots'

Dick Kessler of Antioch calls balls and strikes during the Mundelein sectional softball semifinals. It was the final sectional action for the long-time I.H.S.A. umpire.— Photo by Steve Young

By MIKE KRIZMAN
Lakeland Correspondent

Life doesn't necessarily end after retirement, especially when someone finds a hobby they're good at.

This is definitely true for Antioch resident Dick Kessler. Kessler worked in the engineering division for much of his 42 years at Abbott Laboratories, retiring 11 years ago. About 30 years ago, Kessler became a game official for IHSA activities. It's something he continues to do today, even after retirement.

"Most of it for me is being around the kids and the coaches I've met over the years," Kessler said from his home in Antioch. "It's also given me the chance to stay active."

And Kessler has been very active, officiating numerous high school and college games over the years. Kessler has been a game official in football, volleyball, basketball, baseball and softball, choosing to devote most of his attention to softball.

But he actually got his start working Little League games.

"I was very active in little league up here in Antioch and the umpire who worked the games didn't want to do it anymore," Kessler said. "I stepped in and did about five or six games."

From there, Kessler worked his way into the high school ranks, joining the Northern Officials Association for additional training. He eventually became the head umpire for the 1979 softball state finals in Pekin.

At one point though, Kessler got stuck in a situation that most would rather not be in.

"My youngest daughter played softball," he said. "I showed up to umpire one of her games and I had no idea she was going to be pitching. She was only a freshman at the time. They ended up winning though and I tried to be as fair as possible."

Kessler was also very active in the college ranks until knee problems forced him out in the early 90s. He worked the Division-III softball World Series in Grand Rapids, Mich., and also worked for many of the local colleges around the north suburbs and southern Wisconsin.

That blossomed into working softball games at the mid-major level and even games for the Big Ten.

Kessler continues to work at the high school level, and he's enjoying every minute of it.

"There's a lot of camaraderie with umpires," Kessler said. "I've had people who are 35-years-old come up to me and say 'hi Mr. Kessler.'"

"I've made a lot of friendships over the years with many of the coaches. Sometimes you run across coaches that aren't necessarily umpire lovers, but I've met a lot of great people."

Sequoit summer baseball looks to muster up its own song

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

It's kind of two-fold.

Of course, players in summer league baseball want to win. But it's also time for respective high school coaches to evaluate, or re-evaluate their team all in preparation for next spring.

Antioch head coach Paul Petty and his Sequoits lost key players to graduation this year. The result, the team struggled to a 9-win season.

Time to start over and get back to the basics, according to the coach.

"We're just trying to make a few marks in the sand," said Petty after Antioch fell to host Grayslake 7-6 in summer league action.

The Illinois High School Baseball Coaches Association post-season dance starts next week. The Sequoits, seeded ninth, will open play at home on Mon., July 21 against Vernon Hills. Game time is scheduled for 4:30 p.m.

"The summer is basically a time to experiment with different signs and different situations," Petty continued. "It's a big learning curve, so to speak. But we're playing better. We just need to learn to win some of these close games."

Now Grayslake, on the other hand, is Carmel summer baseball finds groove

By ROB BACKUS
Lakeland Correspondent

With just a week left before the start of post-season play, Carmel's summer baseball team appears to be hitting its stride at exactly the right time.

After starting the summer season 1-7, the Corsairs have won nine of their last 12 games, including wins over Buffalo Grove and Wheeling.

Against Buffalo Grove, the game went into extra innings where Carmel prevailed 5-4 on a game-winning hit from John Bailgeron than scored Jim Robin. Sophomore Tim Johnson pitched well for the Corsairs.

"It was a very competitive summer league game that was pitched well by both teams," Carmel coach Chuck Gandolfi said.

Against Wheeling, Bryan Dovici, Mike O'Leary, Alan Thain, Joe Gaza and Ryan Dunn combined for a shutout at the Corsairs topped Wheeling 7-0.

Thain, Dunn and O'Leary all had key hits for Carmel (10-10).

"We played pretty good defense, the pitchers threw strikes and a lot of kids got to play," Gandolfi said.

According to Gandolfi, playing a lot of kids is the key to the summer schedule.

"We certainly care about winning over the summer, but the real key is development for next season."

Carmel will now gear up to host the Illinois High School Baseball Coaches Association tournament, which runs from July 21-24. The Corsairs will take on Round Lake on July 21 at 5 p.m.

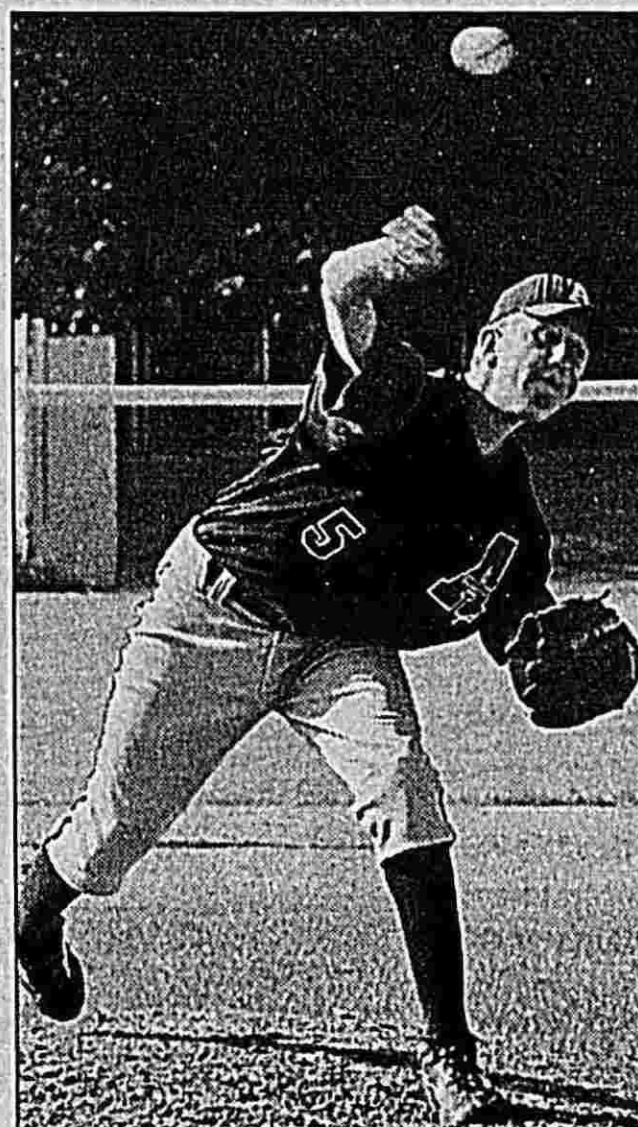

Whatever happens in the tournament, Gandolfi is still pleased with his team's results this summer.

"It's been an excellent summer," Gandolfi said. "I've seen what I needed to see. I've seen what the kids can and can't do."

"You need both success and failure to evaluate your players and this is my first experience with a lot of them."

pretty experienced in those close games. The Rams are 10-7 this summer. All of those games but two, the Rams have been in.

One guy helping lead the resurgence of Grayslake baseball is senior-to-be shortstop Kevin Biederer. The 2003 All-Fox Valley selection has quite a formula for his success, especially when it comes to batting.

"It gets me in the rhythm. I flow to it," said Biederer, who replays the remix to the song Ignition by Art Kelly in his mind before stepping to the plate. "It seems to work, whether I get the green light or bunt."

In Biederer's case against Antioch, it was the latter. With the game knotted at 6-6 in the bottom of the seventh, second baseman Kellen Sams led off with a walk. Biederer then laid down a perfect bunt down the first-base line.

Two batters later, starting pitcher Nolan Jones smacked an infield single that led to Biederer racing around third to score the winning run.

This after Antioch put a 3-spot on the board to take a 6-4 lead in the top of the sixth.

In that inning for Antioch, Ryan Thamerus doubled home Nate Hughes (single) for the first run. Joe Romani then singled home Kevin Propeck, who earlier walked. Thamerus then trotted home on a sacrifice fly by Justin Weis.

"I'm just really proud of the guys and the way they hung in there," said Grayslake skipper Troy Whalen. "They're learning how to win the close games. They're also communicating better out there."

Grayslake had not learned their first-round assignment in the IHSBCA post-season tourney as of Wed. Chances are, though, they will get a home game on July 21, just like Antioch has.

The Rams' Adam Butler pitched the last two-third's inning for the win. Starter Nolan Jones looked good up to that point, allowing just seven hits while fanning five before he was relieved in the seventh with the game tied and Antioch threatening.

"It's all in our approach. Coach Whalen has us thinking a lot more positive and trying to keep our heads in every play," added Biederer.

Matt Calidine smacked two singles, while Propeck added a double of his own for the Sequoits.

Jones and Aaron Hall each finished with two singles while Butler had a single and double to lead the Rams at the plate. Junior-to-be Josh Damore also doubled. Lead-off hitter Bobby Truckenbrod also got in to the act. Truckenbrod's speed yielded him a single and two stolen bases on the day.

But it was Jones and the Biederer 'chime' that had the last dance on this day.

The First Tee
Northeastern
Illinois

LAKELAND
NEWSPAPERS

July 18-24, 2003

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Four bus loads equaling approximately 160 youths and 28 chaperones, counselors and instructors headed down to Cog Hill Golf Club in Lemont for the PGA Tour's Western Open. There, paraplegic Dennis Walter treated everyone to a special, as well as moving golf demonstration. It was all part of Western's Junior Golf Clinic, co-sponsored by Upper Deck Trading Company. Just one of the perks, if you will, for a youth, and aspiring golfer, that is a part of The First Tee of Northeastern Illinois Junior Golf Association.

Safe to say, NEIIGA President Don Wegrzyn was pleased with the turnout.

"I was very happy with the interest. Our kids represented at least half of the youths that were in attendance," said Wegrzyn, also a PGA Master Golf Professional. "The clinic was great. One of the things they learned from Dennis Walter was how he parks his cart in the direction of where he wants to hit the ball. They also learned a lot by seeing how much the pro's practice, especially on chipping and putting. And they took an interest in walking the course, to watch the action. It gave them a chance to practice some of the life skills they learn through The First Tee. Overall, it was nice to see the interest from the kids."

Life skills and golf? Better believe it. They go hand in hand. After all, it is called a 'gentlemen's game'. The First Tee prides itself on quality golf instruction, yes. But it also places heavy emphasis on the essential, or 'Life Skills' kids will need and use regularly as they go through life. The Life Skills portion of The First Tee focuses on areas such as honesty, integrity, sportsmanship, courtesy, respect, judgment and confidence.

Alexandra Lucas, a 13-year-old soon-to-be eighth-grader at Abbott School in Waukegan, has been involved with The First Tee since its inception in these parts five years ago.

Lucas, one of The First Tee's leaders on the Junior Advisory Committee, was part of the caravan that made the trek down to Lemont.

"It's was really cool. To see (Dennis Walter) hit the ball like he does, seeing that he can't walk or stand, was incredible," said Lucas, who regularly practices looking one in the eye while sporting a firm handshake. That happens to be one of the little tid-bits involved with the Life Skills.

"I think, though, the biggest message he (Walters) had to say was if you persevere and stick with what you love doing, you can accomplish anything."

Regarding her involvement with The First Tee, Lucas said she likes working with the kids, helping them learn and grow.

Not only was Wegrzyn happy with the turnout of First Tee youths at the Western, he's happy with the interest overall in the program.

"Our return ratio is about 25 percent for advanced students, 40 percent for girls returning and that's climbing, and between 35-40 percent overall of students returning for another year," he said. "This year, we have about 178 new students. So the word is getting out and people are gracious in their contributions in supporting the program."

My Hell's Angels get their wings

We landed in Oshkosh at dusk, just in time to slip past the Zodiac motorcycle club and head for dinner at Ardy and Ed's Drive-In. As baby-boomers we were hep to this place. It still had waitresses on roller skates, '50s music, and homemade root beer that you could buy by the gallon. In fact, most of the folks who pulled up here were our age or older. Maybe that's why the only romance we saw was between a Chihuahua in a Honda and a Golden Retriever in the back of a Jeep.

If I weren't so afraid of needing a hip replacement, I'd try serving meals this way at home. I'd line the kids up at the kitchen counter, then gracefully inline skate my way through their endless requests—eliciting appreciative applause with my deft pirouettes from range, to microwave, to fridge. The only thing missing at the end of my mealtime performance would be flowers—or a tip.

Speaking of tips, be sure to set aside plenty of time to explore the Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) Airventure Museum in Oshkosh. Airventure, the world's largest aviation event, is scheduled for July 29 to August 4 this year.

We started off our visit with the museum's orientation video. The video itself was an eye opener—literally. It consisted of heart pounding close-ups of the various stunt fliers at the air show, right down to their agonized facial contortions as they subjected themselves to punishing gravitational forces—kind of like me when I bend over and try to tighten up my jowls before they hit the ground.

The kids loved exploring interactive exhibits explaining everything from the beginning of flight to the state-of-the-art F-22 Raptor airplane. Their favorite hands-on experience was actually taking the throttle as a "Young Eagles" co-pilot.

So, I sat for more than an hour on a runway bench in the hot sun while my "angels" were up in the wild blue yonder spilling their guts to a grandfatherly pilot. "Boy, those trees look just like broccoli. My mom makes us eat broccoli, but she just eats junk food!" You get the idea.

I was left to study a Young Eagles fact sheet. "There are four forces that affect an airplane in flight: Lift, Gravity, Thrust, and

LIFE

Leslie Glazier-Werner

Drag." It kind of summed up our road trip thus far. My personal "Wolfman Jack" was off lifting more travel brochures to reduce the threat of downtime. I've said all I care to about Gravity. The kids would soon be thrust back into my sagging upper arms. And we had one more night before our heat-nik bunch would Drag into Door County, ripe for action...and a shower.

Leslie Glazier-Werner can be contacted at lesismore@msn.com.

EAA Young Eagles will fly

The Experimental Aircraft Association's goal is to introduce one million kids between the ages of eight and seventeen to the thrill of flight by December 17, 2003—the 100th anniversary of the Wright Brothers' flight. The EAA has more than 1000 local chapters.

In the northeastern Illinois area, Chapter 414 will offer free Young Eagles flights on Saturday, July 19 or August 9, at the Waukegan Regional Airport in Waukegan. To R.S.V.P., please call John or Doris Gaddis at (847) 362-1423.

The EAA Chapter 932 at Galt Airport in Greenwood, ILL. provides free Young Eagles flights every second Saturday from March through November (weather permitting). Contact Larry Schubert, Young Eagles Coordinator at www.eaa932.org. Galt Airport is eight miles from the towns of Woodstock and McHenry.

Finally, parents can call the Young Eagles toll free at 1-877-806-8902, or visit them on the web at www.youngeagles.org. They'll send you an information package and help you find a pilot near you.

Classic vinaigrette features fresh lemon juice

Lemon lovers will enjoy exploring their favorite citrus fruit in a new book, "Lemons: Growing, Cooking, Crafting" (Chronicle, 2003) by food writers Kate Chynoweth and Elizabeth Woodson. The small, 120-page volume is populated with attractive photographs focused on lemons. Recipes range from sparkling lemonade to lemon-lime layered bath oil. We enjoyed the lemon-balsamic vinaigrette with lettuce freshly picked from the garden.

Shakespeare on the Green opens with

'Two Gentlemen of Verona'

William Shakespeare's comedy "Two Gentlemen of Verona" will be the featured production of this year's Shakespeare on the Green in Lake Forest. The outdoor performances, produced by The Theater School DePaul University, Barst Campus will open Friday, July 25 and run through August 10, 2003, on the front lawn of the Barst Campus of DePaul University (formerly Barst College), 700 E. Westleigh Road in Lake Forest, Illinois. Performances are Thursday through Sundays and admission is FREE. The grounds open at 6 p.m. for picnicking and the curtain rises at 8 p.m.

This summer marks the twelfth year for this professional Shakespeare Company. Two Gentlemen of Verona will be directed by founding member Karla Koskinen, who directed last season's critically acclaimed production of Othello.

This is Koskinen's twelfth season as Artistic Director. Koskinen said, "Two Gentlemen of Verona offers a wonderful opportunity to send up romantic love in all of its various humorous guises. Young, naively idealistic lovers; a chivalric knight-like figure; a pompous suitor and even two clowns, who contemplate what it means to be in love, round out Shakespeare's early comedy. I look forward to working with a very talented cast to bring this comedy to life." The production will feature scenic design by Holly Windstad, costume design by Linda Roethke, lighting design by founding member Steve Carmichael and sound design by Robert Steel.

For more information about Shakespeare on the Green or to lend financial support towards the production, please call the Drake Theater at 847-574-4758, fax 847-574-4756 or e-mail Jackie Johnson at jjohns40@barst.edu.

A true heroine

I Capture the Castle

Rating
R for brief nudity

Director
Tim Fywell

Starring

Romola Garai, Rose Byrne
Henry Thomas, Marc Blucas
Bill Nighy, Tara Fitzgerald
Sinead Cusack, Henry Cavill

The Mortmains are a madly eccentric English family, held on the verge of financial ruin in an ancient, crumbling castle in the countryside during the 1930's. James Mortmain (Bill Nighy) suffers from writer's block, which threatens to become permanent, as he has been unable to write a single word of prose in twelve years. They live on the royalties paid on a best seller he wrote many, many years ago. His younger daughter Cassandra (Romola Garai) has the heart of an artist as she dashes off real and imagined scenarios in her journal, and narrates the story for us. Rose, her older sister is a red-haired beauty with a passionate desire to escape the castle and the family's poverty. The girls' stepmother, Topaz, is an artist and a practicing nudist.

Yes, this is a British comedy with an assortment of quirky characters and a couple of handsome Americans (ripe for picking by the penniless Mortmain sisters) thrown in. The Cotton brothers, Simon (Henry Thomas) and Neil (Marc Blucas) arrive from America to claim an inheritance, which includes the castle. Topaz sees this as an opportunity to avoid being tossed out and to have Rose marry a rich man. Problems solved. She invites the Cottons to dinner and Rose exhibits her limited talents for singing and playing.

The young men's English-born mother, played by Sinead Cusack, sees through the plan, but she's charmed by the Mortmains and quite interested in getting to know James a bit better. Which sister belongs with what brother is in question as young love awakens, and the inevitable heartbreak follows. And the mature set has its dalliances as well.

The photography is brilliant and the lighting magnificent. The dark, dank castle has a rough beauty and the sets and costumes are lush. There's a lot of fun here, good story telling and a rich, textured production about first love and growing up at any age.

A CONVERSATION WITH... CHATRI CHALERM YUKOL

By George O. Singleton

Dressed casually and appearing relaxed, Prince Chatri Chalerm Yukol of Thailand and his wife Kamla welcomed me to their hotel suite. He is the writer and director of the epic film, "The Legend of Suriyothai," and Kamla is the producer. Unlike "The King and I" and its pale remake "Anna and the King," "Suriyothai" gets its drama from a core of historical facts, rather than a Hollywood script of forbidden love between a Siamese Royal and a visiting, widowed British schoolteacher. This undoubtedly was one reason "Anna and the King" was shot in Malaysia, because the government of Thailand would not allow it to be filmed in their homeland.

Chatri Chalerm Yukol, a Prince in the royal family of Thailand, is an acclaimed director in that country and with this film he will enter the world stage in a major way. The film's romance, political intrigue and battle scenes are on par with those in other audience pleasing films; the classic "Ben Hur," "Gladiator" and "LOTR: The Two Towers." The filmmakers provide a fresh, intriguing and enlightening story of intrigue that is largely based in fact.

"The Legend of Suriyothai" takes place in 16th century Thailand, and tells the story of a beautiful young princess turned warrior who must choose the path her life will take. The characterizations of the women in the film are intelligent and provocative.

Chatri's wife Kamla designed the costumes. They add that all props were made from scratch, including authentic reproductions of 16th century European, Thai and Burmese weapons. The film was largely funded and supported by Queen Sirikit of Thailand, so thousands of Thai army and navy soldiers and sailors help make up the 5,000 extras that appear in the film.

Without the benefit of CGI, as in "LOTR: The Two Towers," the battle action here is just as good, perhaps better because it seems more real...in fact, it is. But then with 5,000 extras and 200 elephants, filmed in true historical locales, with a well written script, and characters you care about, it's no wonder many people have seen the film two or three times. This is a must see for those who like action films, are history buffs or are thrilled with wonderful period costumes. The spirit of the classic film "Seven Samurai" is invoked here, though on a much grander scale.

Most of the funds used to support The First Tee come from numerous area businesses, as well as private donations. Last year, The First Tee accomplished its goal of raising over $80,000. It had over 300 members, and those numbers look to keep rising.

About The First Tee

The First Tee of Northeastern Illinois Chapter is part of the nationally known First Tee Junior Golf Program. Their headquarters is based in St. Augustine, Fla. In its first year, The First Tee of Northeastern Illinois had roughly 50 youngsters sign up. Now, they are pushing 1,000.

"It's been amazing—the growth, the kids—it's amazing," said Dave Hughes, The First Tee's director of programs and administration for the past two years. Actually, Hughes just resigned his position, so that he can travel the United States as well as abroad. But first, he will wed Courtney in Philadelphia.

"I'm actually getting a little choked up right now, knowing I won't be a part of this any more. But I hope to be back some day" with The First Tee as a regional manager or involved with junior golf development in some way. This has been a great experience, though, helping build the program up from the grass roots. And on a pretty tight budget."

George Lucas, who serves as an instructor for The First Tee, and Fred Turman wanted to develop a junior golf program through the Lake County Urban League. Then Wegrzyn got involved. He has been involved with junior golf for close to seven years.

But it was word of mouth that help drew the attention, not with regards to attracting the youths, but the volunteers as well. The First Tee started with roughly 15-20 volunteers. It now has over 150.

Volunteers Gene and Camillia Head of Wadsworth serve as lead instructors for the program.

"I had known George (Lucas) and Fred (Turman) before and knew they were trying to start a junior golf league," said Gene Head, the principal at Webster Middle School in Waukegan. "Then Don got involved and we ended up getting involved."

Camillia, who teaches at Lyon School in Waukegan, added, "It's an outstanding program, especially the Life Skills part. Fairness and honesty—those kinds of things have great carry-over value in life."

The Head's son Eugene, age 7 and a third-grader-to-be at Spaulding School in Gurnee, really likes The First Tee. His parents got him involved right from the start.

"I've met a lot of friends and learned a lot about the game of golf," said Eugene, who plays regularly at courses such as Brae Loch in Grayslake and Shiloh Park in Zion.

The First Tee basically works like this. It's holds its membership drive and kick-off usually in April. The goal is to get the word out to area businesses and hopeful supporters and donors to the program. Then, it's time for some golf! Youths, anywhere between the ages of 3-18, sign-up for sessions held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m.-noon, or on Tuesday and Thursday from 6-8 p.m. They can attend both sessions if they like. All of the clinics are held at the home of The First Tee, Foss Park Golf Club in North Chicago. Groups are broken down by age, with each age group concentrating on a specific area for a short time before they rotate to the next area, or station, if you will. For instance, the seven- and eight-year-olds practice putting and chipping, while the kids 13- and older might be discussing the rules of golf. Soon-to-be Lake Villa resident Christopher Taylor, 12, and his sister Casi, 11, are in their first year with the program. They both learned through neighbors and friends.

"I really like it," said Casi. "It's very satisfying when you can sink a really long putt."

Christopher particularly likes hitting the ball. "It's been a lot of fun learning a new sport," he said. "Plus, you get to meet others.

I really like hitting my driver as far as I can."

Twelve-year-old Brad Terrill, a North Chicagoan who will be a freshman at Christian Life School in Kenosha, has been with the program for two years.

"The program is very structured. It also has great leaders to help you out and provide guidance and instruction," said Terrill, who also learned about The First Tee from a neighbor. "I'm actually hoping to try out for my high school team this fall."

A lot of the kids in the program come from the various youth service agencies throughout Lake County, like the Lake County Urban League, Foss Park District, Camp SMAART, the Lake County YWCA, and the Boy's and Girls Clubs of Lake County.

At the end of the summer sessions, The First Tee has testing for the kids, both in golf and in the Life Skills, so that they can become certified. Youths who pass the skills tests have the potential to become leaders on the Junior Advisory Committee. A Family Day is then planned for sometime in September, to culminate and celebrate the season.

All together, Wegrzyn said that the program has kids representing 21 communities in Lake County. Some even come from areas like Skokie, Evanston and Kenosha.

In addition to being treated with trips to the Western Open, youths a part of The First Tee get other perks such as free individual golf clubs and discounts for playing. The kids are also treated to special guest appearances by at least 30 area golf professionals, who stop in for a demonstration and to say hello to the kids. Trick shot artist Peter Longo is also scheduled to make an appearance on Thurs., July 17 for a demonstration.

For members and supporters of the program, there are various membership levels and privileges, depending on your degree of donation.

Anyone interested in volunteering or who has a youth that would like to be a part of The First Tee should call 847-800-7412.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

While you don't want to have an important personal discussion with a family member, you have to early in the week. Don't beat around the bush with him or her; get straight to the point. It's the best way to handle the situation. A close friend offers you some constructive criticism. Listen to what he or she is saying.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Don't give up too easily when it comes to something that you really want, Taurus. You can overcome minor setbacks. Besides, you know that this is worth the effort. A loved one gets you involved in a family discussion. While you don't want to take sides, you must. Try to help everyone come to an agreement.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

You have to be patient this week, Gemini, while waiting for a close friend to answer an important question. Don't force the issue with him or her, or you may not get the response that you're hoping for. That special someone asks a favor of you. Think about what he or she really wants you to do before saying yes.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Try not to get upset when a business associate is in the spotlight instead of you this week. He or she really does deserve the praise. Try to realize this, and be happy for him or her. A close friend needs help with a family matter. Even though he or she wants you to get involved in the situation, don't. It's not your place to do so.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Keep your eyes and ears open at work this week, Leo. There is something strange going on. Co-workers are counting on you to find out what it is.

Don't worry — it isn't anything serious. You meet an interesting person late in the week. Get to know him or her better; it will be worth the effort.

Virgo - Aug. 24/Sept. 22

You struggle with your perfectionist nature early in the week, Virgo. You want a business project to be done right. However, there's not enough time to do it perfectly. Explain this to the higher-ups, and do the best that you can. That is all anyone expects of you. Scorpio plays an important role.

Libra - Sept. 23/Oct. 23

Don't believe everything that you hear, Libra. An acquaintance tries to pull the wool over your eyes early in the week; don't let him or her. If you really listen to what this person is saying, you'll see that it can't possibly be true.

Scorpio - Oct. 24/Nov. 22

A close friend confides in you this week, Scorpio. Even though he or she reveals some important information, you have to keep it to yourself. You promise that you will. Don't betray this person's trust. He or she wouldn't do that to you.

Sagittarius - Nov. 23/Dec. 21

A co-worker gets into trouble and asks you to lie for him or her. Don't do it; it's not worth it. Besides, no one will believe you anyway. You can't lie. A loved one wants your input on a family matter. Be honest — even if you know that what you have to say won't be appreciated.

Capricorn - Dec. 22/Jan. 20

Don't try to take control of a situation that you're not capable of handling early in the week, Capricorn. You know your limitations; don't ignore them. Let someone else take the lead, and try to learn something from him or her. Aquarius plays an important role on Thursday.

Aquarius - Jan. 21/Feb. 18

Don't make a hasty decision when it comes to your personal finances this week. Look at all of the pros and cons, and turn to those whom you trust for advice. Your welfare is too important to act without thinking. An old friend whom you haven't seen in a while calls you. It isn't a social call; try to find out what he or she really wants.

Pisces - Feb. 19/March 20

You have several things to do this week, Pisces, and a lot of people are counting on you to get them done. Work diligently, and don't get distracted by those around you. It's the only way to make any progress. That special someone takes you out late in the week. Enjoy yourself!

Celebrate the interplay of music, photography, and nature

Following the highly successful launch of the "Sights and Sounds at Ryerson Woods" series, the second event of this three-part series will take place on July 26 at Ryerson Woods which is located on Riverwoods Road, between Half Day Road (Route 22) and Deerfield Road near Deerfield.

Built around a "Bats and Chimney Swifts" theme, the event will feature a photography exhibit, a jazz performance, and a brief "Nature Notes." All events scheduled as part of the series celebrate the interplay of music, photography, and nature in beautiful Ryerson Woods.

The event will begin with a reception to celebrate the work of photographer Joe Kayne, who has been photographing wilderness in the United States for 20 years, the last 10 years working almost exclusively with a large format wooden field camera.

"The American Landscape" by Joseph Kayne will be exhibited at Ryerson Woods from July 23 - August 31, with a special Artist's Reception on July 26 from 5 - 6:45 pm.

Immediately following the July 26 Artist's Reception, there will be a brief "Bats and Chimney Swifts" Nature Notes, presented by a Lake County Forest Preserve District naturalist.

The evening will conclude with a performance by Jim Clark's Jazz People. Playing in the Chicago style, the six-piece band will play on the lawn of Brushwood house beneath a stately canopy of trees. Jim Clark's Jazz People will perform from 7 - 9 p.m.

Visitors are welcome to attend one or all of the planned events. Also, visitors are encouraged to bring picnic which may be enjoyed on the lawn of Ryerson Woods.

Admission is $8 for members of Friends of Ryerson Woods, $10 for non-members. For more information, advance registration and prepayment please call 847-968-3321. Tickets may also be purchased at the door for $15 per person.

Navy's new training program being hailed as revolutionary

From the Great Lakes Bulletin

The Navy's Revolution in Training is marching forward with the establishment of a new command chartered with taking civilian volunteers and training them to become the future enlisted and officer professionals of the U.S. Navy.

The Naval Service Training Command (NSTC) officially stood up June 30 and aligns enlisted and officer initial training programs under a single command structure.

Commander Naval Training Center (NTC) Great Lakes Rear Adm. Ann E. Rondeau is now the Commander Naval Service Training Command, and will oversee the critical mission of accessions training. The headquarters will remain at Naval Station Great Lakes, in the Chicago area.

"We are embarking on a new journey that will revolutionize every aspect of how we prepare our new Sailors, officer and enlisted, for the Fleet," said Rondeau. "We will continue to provide the most professional, highest quality training and education as we have in the past. The consolidation of all officer and enlisted initial training and education under one command will give us the unique opportunity to proceed to the next level, to ensure our future Navy is manned by warfighters ready and able to answer any challenge, any threat, anywhere."

NTC Great Lakes has historically managed basic training for enlisted Sailors, including Recruit Training, or boot camp, while staff members at the Naval Education and Training Command (NETC) headquarters in Pensacola, have been responsible for officer accessions programs such as the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps and Officer Candidate School.

According to Commander, NETC Vice Adm. Alfred G. Harms Jr., this change is intended to make initial Navy training more effective and efficient by giving a single commander responsibility for curriculum development and resource management for the Navy's initial training programs. The change will also enable the sharing of best practices and allow for the consistent application of

Consolidation of Vista gets OK from FTC

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER

Officials at Vista Healthcare are breathing easier, now that the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has concluded its investigation into the health-care organization's merger of Victory Memorial Hospital and St. Therese.

Vista CEO Tim Harrington announced the FTC had determined that Vista's actions were "not anti-competitive."

"We were caught in the net," said Harrington, describing the FTC's national sweep aimed at stopping hospital mergers and its effort to determine the long-term effects of such mergers.

"When Vista came together, we got all the necessary Federal approvals," he said. The blending of Provena St. Therese and Victory Memorial into Vista caught the attention of the probe.

"We went through a full-fledged 18-month investigation,"

Condell expands to Grayslake location

By CHRISTY BLANDFORD
Lakeland Correspondent

Condell Health Network and Grayslake Village officials filled 11 planters with flowers Monday to commemorate the hospital's latest expansion in Grayslake.

Each of the planters represents one of Condell's 11 medical buildings that are scattered throughout the county.

The flowers will be displayed in downtown Grayslake to celebrate a 15,000-square-foot addition to Condell's Grayslake satellite location at 1170 E. Belvidere Road, said Eugene Pritchard, Condell president and chief executive officer.

The expansion will increase the building's size to 45,000 square feet. Condell's expanded Grayslake site will house physician offices, lab services and a physical therapy clinic. Construction is slated to be complete in spring 2004.

The site currently provides physician, general radiology and lab services.

Condell has experienced astounding growth over the last 10 years, Pritchard said, with the health network increasing 15 to 20 percent each year.

"For an existing hospital to grow like this—I don't know of any," Pritchard said at a groundbreaking ceremony Monday. "We're getting to a size now where we can almost support anything out there."

Because the health network serves around 575,000 outpatients each year, Pritchard said expanding satellite locations provides easier access to medical treatment. He said Condell is expanding in order to accommodate an increase in demand for localized healthcare centers.

"We used to say we were the hospital of the future," he said. "I think the future has arrived. I think we're the hospital of the present."

Julius Marks Jr., chairman of the hospital's board of directors, said Condell officials are responding to the call for more healthcare availability in the area.

"As Condell grows, so is the demand for localized healthcare in Lake County," he said. "When we combine (Condell medical buildings) we cover 260,000-square-feet of Lake County."

Mayor Timothy Perry said the expansion is a positive addition to Grayslake.

"We're very, very lucky to have access to high quality medical care," he said. "There's a great demand and need for convenient access to high quality medical care."

Condell is also expanding its presence in the county with additions to its main location in Libertyville, including a four-story wing, featuring a new maternity ward that opened last month.

Milk man set for jump into senate fray

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

According to some Lake County Republicans—Jim Oberweis, 57, will announce his candidacy at 10 a.m. on July 17 at the Chicago Stock Exchange to be the Republican nominee for U.S. Senate.

Oberweis is the owner of Oberweis Dairy based in Aurora, with about $50 million in annual sales and 28 dairy stores in the Chicagoland area.

Oberweis, who lost to Jim Durkin in the March 2002 primary for U.S. senator, will run for the Senate seat being vacated by Peter Fitzgerald.

His opponents in the March primary will be John Cox, Jack Ryan and Andrew McKenna.

Oberweis has the support of Lake Villa Township Republican Chairman Ted Livenhood and Lake Villa Republican Committeeman in Precinct 147 Fernando Salazar.

According to Livenhood, the Lake County Young Republican organization and Oberweis will sponsor a Republican Party Exhibit at the Lake County Fair from July 22-27.

"In an effort to boost voters awareness of the Republican parties commitment to family values we have acquired the entertaining skills of 'Magic Steve' Jordan to perform comedy and magic for the kids and families attending this year's Lake County Fair," said Livenhood. "Republicans are turning up our efforts to prove our commitment to the families and youth in Lake County and invite everyone to visit our exhibit."

Oberweis is expected to attend the fair. Oberweis has an undergraduate degree in Political Science from the University of Illinois and an M.B.A. from the University of Chicago. He has five children, ranging in age from 34 to 23, and eight grandchildren.

Oberweis also developed The Oberweis Report, a monthly stock investment advisory specializing in emerging growth companies.

Senate Drug Plan A Hard Pill To Swallow

AS REPORTED IN THE JUNE 23RD CHICAGO SUN-TIMES
BY ROBERT GENETSKI, A VETERAN CHICAGO ECONOMIST

As the details of the U.S. Senate plan to create a Medicare drug benefit emerge, it becomes apparent the plan is about as bad as one can imagine. Both House and Senate bills would require senior citizens to spend a significant amount of their own money in order to receive government benefits. Coverage would disappear after drug costs reached a certain level and then resume only if costs reached a considerably higher plateau.

In the final analysis, the Medicare plans being proposed will cover only 22% of senior citizens' drug costs. The seniors will pay the other 78% themselves.

What's The Answer For Now? Introducing... SAVE ON MEDS!

Save On Meds, a Lake County company is fighting to keep prescription medication costs to a minimum by providing a safe and reliable method of securing prescription medications from Canada at reasonable prices.

The Senate voted on June 20th to allow drugs to be imported from Canada, where prices are significantly lower, and the Canadian government has guaranteed the quality of the medication being exported into the U.S.

Were you a fair queen?

In celebration of the Lake County Fair's 75th anniversary, the pageant program is encouraging past Fair Queens of all age categories to visit this year's Miss Pageant on Tuesday, July 22. They will be introduced on stage in a special segment of the contest. "The Fair has created a history book in honor of its special year and researching the Queen contest for the publication has been fun and interesting," says Darlene Cankar, assistant pageant director. The Miss contest dates back to 1959 with JoAnne Bielat of Libertyville winning a crown made of cardboard. "Fortunately, we know that JoAnne still resides in Libertyville and have been able to invite her to the pageant, but many queens from the past have married and changed their last names, making inviting them personally to the pageant very difficult," adds Cankar. Past Fair Queens, or anyone with information about the location of a Queen, are asked to notify Darlene Cankar at 847-265-2717. Information on obtaining the Fair's celebratory history book is available from the Lake County Fair Association at 847-223-2204.

Forest board approves 10+ acre land buy in Round Lake

The Lake County Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners approved the purchase of 10.5 acres in Round Lake for $540,000 as an addition to Marl Flat Forest Preserve. The board also approved the official naming of the preserve as Marl Flat.

The property, combined with Marl Flat, purchased in March 2003, will create a 214-acre Forest Preserve. The 10.5-acre addition also provides for a key trail link for the planned 35-mile Millennium Trail. The new addition to Marl Flat features woodlands dominated by burr oaks and wetlands. Proper restoration could revitalize the woodlands and enhance wildlife habitat throughout the preserve. This 10.5-acre land buy increases the total number of acquisitions made using funds from the November 2000 referendum to 27, and the total acres of Forest Preserves in Lake County to 24,708 acres.

University Center secures expansion funds for facility

$24.7 million education center in Grayslake set to start

By CHRISTY BLANDFORD
Lakeland Correspondent

Residents who want to complete college degree programs at state universities or colleges soon will not have to travel any farther than Grayslake.

The Illinois Capital Development Board last week released $24.7 million for the construction of a University Center of Lake County Grayslake campus. The development board oversees construction of new state facilities, such as colleges.

Seventeen state colleges and universities offer bachelor's degree completion, master's degrees and professional training programs through the University Center of Lake County.

Students enrolled at the University Center take classes through seven locations in the county, but receive their degree from the college or university that sponsors their degree program.

University center officials currently rent space at seven schools and training centers locations throughout the county, but the Grayslake facility will provide a permanent home and additional room for an increasing enrollment, said G. Gary Grace, center executive director.

"We're already at an enrollment they (state education officials) said we would reach in about half of the time," Grace said. "We've been hoping for this building."

A pre-bid meeting was scheduled Wednesday at the College of Lake County in an attempt to find a developer for the site. Groundbreaking on the Grayslake campus is slated for Oct. 1, with project completion expected in Jan. 2005.

A 91-square-foot facility is planned for the site, which will house computer labs, an online library, specialized science labs and high-tech classrooms. The building will be located on Lancer Lane, on the College of Lake County's grounds. Estimates indicate building construction, architecture and technological fees will not exceed the $24.7 million grant, Grace said.

Illinois Board of Higher Education officials in 1998 decided there was only limited access to higher education in the county and began studying sites for a new location. After debates of whether the new learning center should be built in Waukegan at the old Lakehurst Mall or in Grayslake, Grace said the latter offer was more persuasive.

"The proposal for CLC to provide $2 million worth of land (for the facility) and support for the University Center to be located in Grayslake—that was a very attractive proposal," he said.

CLC and the University Center are not affiliated, Grace said, but the proximity of the facilities can provide "seamless learning access."

Lyla MacLean, spokeswoman for CLC, said the University Center would benefit CLC students.

"(CLC students) can finish the first two years of courses that will count toward their bachelor's degree at CLC and then they can go to the University Center and complete a program offered by one of the participating colleges,"

"CLC's been a wonderful partner," Grace said. "Our goal has always been to provide seamless learning access."

The University Center currently offers 45 degree programs, but Lynn Evans, center program manager, said as the facility expands, the variety of program choices might also increase. The center serves around 3,000 students in the classroom and in virtual classrooms annually, Evans said, but she anticipates enrollment could increase as well with the additional facility.

"We're in a bit of a catch-22 right now," she said. "If we bring in more programs, we don't have the space."

Grace said University Center officials plan to research what jobs are most sought after locally in order to provide more programs of study available in those concentrations.

"We're working hard to add those new programs that the region needs in terms of economic development and sustainability," he said.

University Center officials plan to move in to another permanent facility in Waukegan, 1 N. Genesee St. in January 2004. Grace said he is not sure whether the center will expand even more.

"For sure we will be in Waukegan and in Grayslake," Grace said. "Where else, that has not been determined at this point. But our board has always said we'll be in multiple sites."

Fall registration set at CLC

Registration for fall credit and non-credit courses is now being accepted at the College of Lake County's Grayslake Campus, 19351 W. Washington St.; Lakeshore Campus, 111 N. Genesee St., Waukegan; and Southlake Educational Center, 1120 S. Milwaukee Ave., Vernon Hills. The fall semester will begin Aug. 25.

New students enrolling for credit courses must submit an application for admission before they register. Applications may be filed in person, by mail or on the web at www.clcillinois.edu/applic.htm.

Students who have completed the admission process may register through Aug. 23 by touch-tone telephone at 847-223-1111 or on the web at www.clcillinois.edu/selfserv.htm. Both options are available 24 hours a day.

Students may also come to CLC for web registration assistance from 8 a.m.-8 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m.-4 p.m., Friday. Assistance also will be available from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. on Saturdays, Aug. 16 and 23.

During registration period, the college will provide a variety of student services, including career, academic and registration advisement; financial aid consultations; assessment and placement tests; college information sessions; and textbook sales.

For information about college programs and courses, call 847-265-5343.

Hundreds set to raise funds for Heart Walk

Hundreds of heart disease and stroke survivors will don red baseball caps that read, "Fighting Back" to raise funds for the American Heart Association. The Northwest Suburban American Heart Walk take place on Sunday, Sept. 14, at the Ned Brown Meadow of Busse Woods in Rolling Meadows.

Survivors with family, friends and co-workers, will be among the expected 5,000 other local residents who are walking. With this year's theme setting the tone, "Participate. Raise Funds. Save Lives," walkers will be stepping out to fight against heart disease and stroke at the American Heart Walk by raising more than $760,000.

Condell embraces 'close by' philosophy

It's been generations since doctors made house calls, but Condell Health Network is keeping alive the spirit of personal care and attention with its policy of growth and development.

CEO/President Eugene Pritchard described that policy as "bringing the doctor to the patient." Condell accomplishes that goal with a system of 11 outlying medical centers located throughout the service area of Condell, Lake County's biggest hospital. Typically, the centers contain physicians offices and other health care facilities including several with acute care.

Groundbreaking Monday for expansion of Condell's Grayslake center recognizes a current feature of patient care as well as serving as a sign of Lake County growth. Condell maintains other centers at Buffalo Grove, Gurnee, Lake Villa, Mundelein, Round Lake Beach and Vernon Hills. The hospital was founded in 1928. Besides being the county's largest hospital, Condell offers a variety of sophisticated medical services including more open heart surgeries than some larger facilities in Chicago.

Six hundred doctors are affiliated with Condell with a high percentage of them being young practitioners. Pritchard said that youth is not only recognition that Condell is "on the move," but evidence that the hospital is on the cutting edge of technology and modern facilities. Young doctors like to be where the action is and that spells the best that can be offered in patient care, Pritchard explained.

Condell aims to be nearby no matter where you live or work in Lake County. The hospital's standing is a testament to health care leadership.

Fair days ahead for 75th season

Early July's violent weather may be a good omen that we're in for a stretch of sunny days and balmy nights to usher in fair week. That would be especially welcome this year as the Lake County Fair celebrates its 75th anniversary. Be kind, Mr. Weatherman.

Fair week is that special time when a "little city" sprouts up at the fairgrounds at Routes 45 and 120, with a population of thousands. When the annual exposition opens Tuesday, July 22, fair week represents the culmination of a year's worth of planning and work for fair officials and exhibitors. For the rest of us, it's an opportunity to have fun, enjoy meeting friends, and revel in sights, sounds and aromas unique to the fair.

With just a bit of a stretch, the 2003 fair could mark the 150th anniversary of the Lake County Fair. It was that long ago when county residents started assembling every summer, originally in Waukegan, to judge livestock, crops and recognize outstanding agricultural efforts. Those long ago events brought together farm folk and "city" residents to promote farms and recognize farming as an important part of the Lake County economy. In a way, that still is one of the underlying purposes of the fair.

The fair set up at various locations over the next century, appearing in Libertyville for a number of years, and being held at Antioch, Wauconda and Gurnee. Fifty years ago, fair leaders purchased land in the center of the county near Grayslake and the Lake County Fair Assn. acquired a permanent home.

Summer wouldn't be summer around these parts without the annual July get-together. Suggestion: Make a date to join in fair fun that will be unfolding through Sunday, July 27. We salute the Lake County Fair and wish it many more years of success.

Can GOP success repeat?

Illinois Republican leaders hope success at the national level under President Bush will rub off on them as they attempt to rebuild a state party tarnished by Ryan administration scandals and the near Democratic sweep of state offices in 2002.

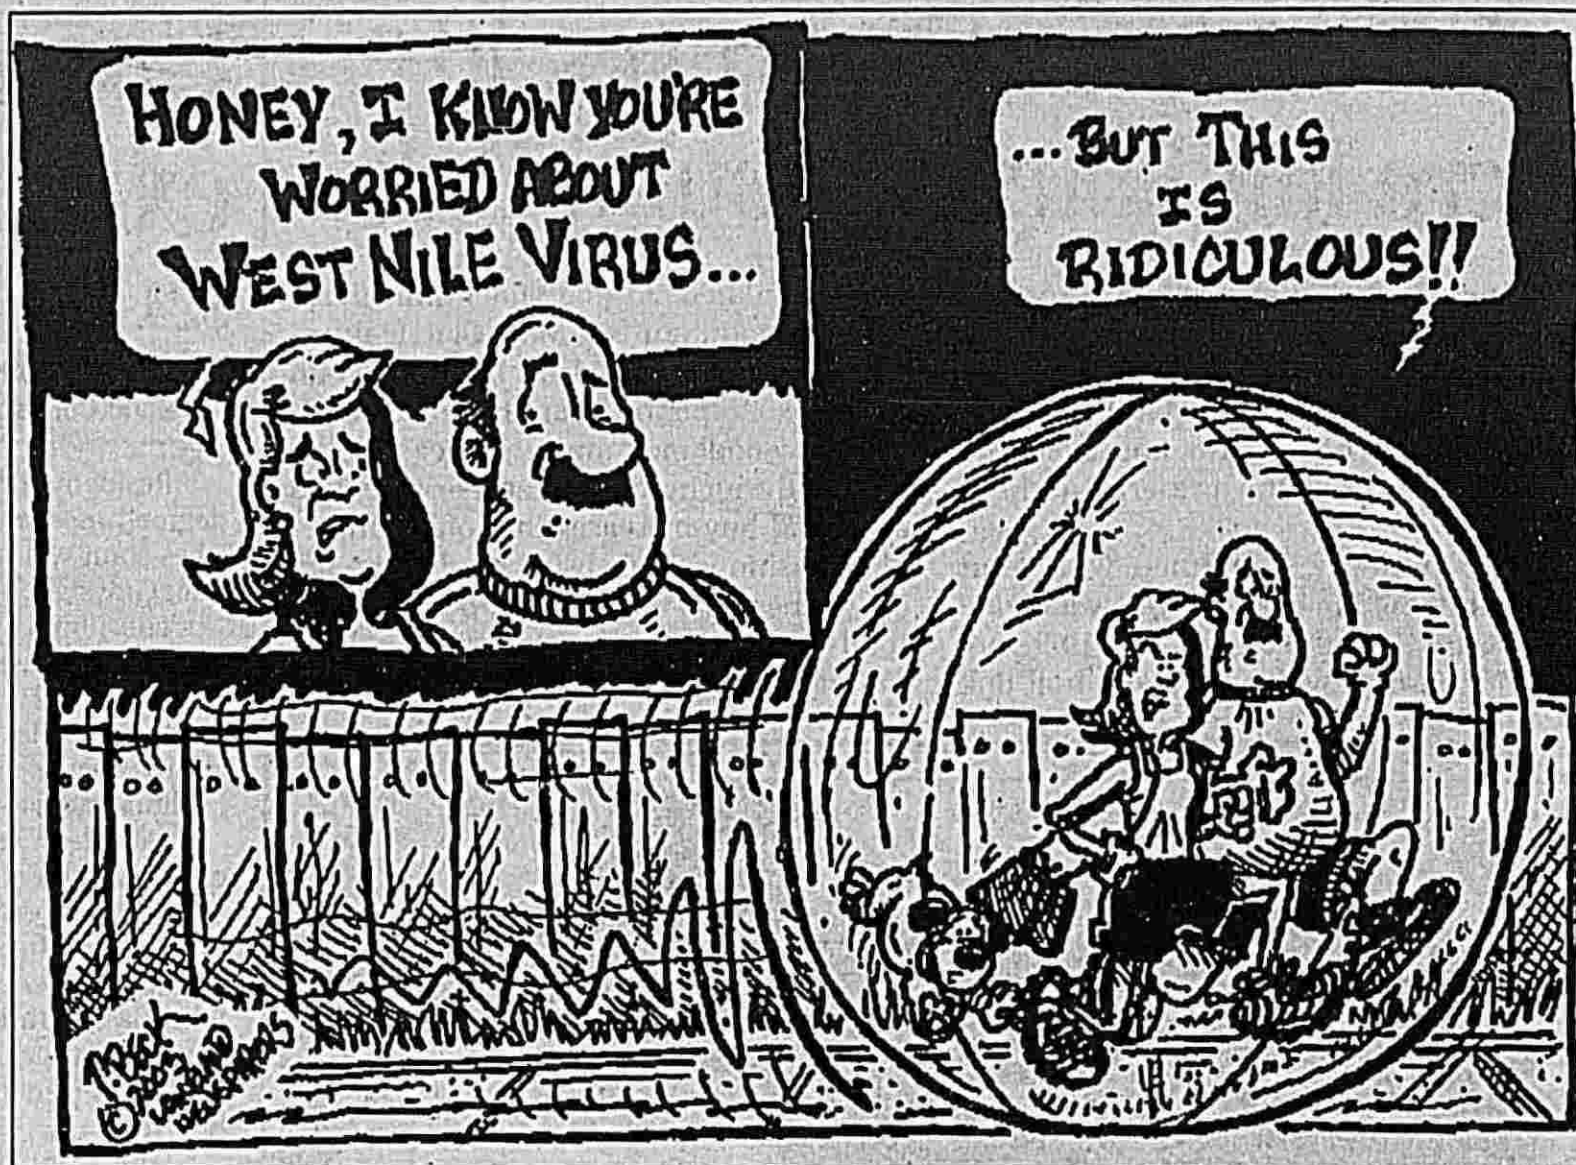

For the state GOP there is only one way to go—up. By adopting an A to Z strategy, any gains between Anna and Zion will be an improvement.

The daunting Republican task starts with reversing a three election trend of Illinois going Democratic for president by carrying the state for Bush next year and retaining a Republican seat in the U.S. Senate. That could happen if the new GOP leadership in Illinois focuses on national issues and the value of having a Republican senator. Republican leaders, basically power brokers in the General Assembly, have shunned national affairs. The 2004 campaign would be a good time to reject state parochialism and get Illinois Republicans involved in what goes on in Washington. Are you listening Speaker Hastert?

Political pundits see the national GOP with a lop-sided start for '04. Count a popular president heading the ticket, fewer Congressional incumbents retiring, redistricting advantages and campaign contributions flowing freely. The Illinois Republican leadership ought to take advantage of this promising state of affairs.

If he chooses, retiring U.S. Sen. Peter Fitzgerald could do a lot to aid the GOP cause in an active role as a youngish elder statesman. Six years ago he was successful campaigning as an independent voice with conservative principals. Even with Democrats mounting a strong campaign to fill the open seat with a certifiable liberal, there's no reason to believe that the job couldn't be done with a candidate in the mold of Senator Fitzgerald. What Illinois doesn't need is a Dick Durbin clone.

There's a way back for Illinois Republicans by following the Yellow Brick Road connected to Washington.

Shopping patterns at malls face jolt

Competition between regional shopping malls will be heating up even more with the opening in October of Glen Town Center, the centerpiece of a 1,200 acre master planned community on the site of the former Glenview Naval Air Station.

Where thousands of World War II Navy pilots trained, including President George H.W. Bush, will be an 18-hole golf course, 54-acre park, dozens of single family homes and town homes, apartments, and the obligatory shopping center. Developers have tagged the manufactured town square, Navy Park, to build on Navy history. A Von Maur department store will anchor the center. An airplane hanger was left standing to house glitzy shops.

Developers are ignoring the so so economy to unveil the shopping center with jazzy opening events designed to break the regional mall shopping habits of North Shore, North Cook and Lake County residents. At mid-summer 75 percent of the stores were leased.

Jogging is fun

Sidewalk sighting (honest) not far from town: He: Head defiantly back, bald head glistening in the sun, gulping in air. Trudging gamely ahead at a pace (now you'll really think this is being made up) that generously can be described as "walking wounded." She: Head dejectedly down, arms pumping furiously; unflinchingly plowing forward, ignoring the scenery and passersby. Yes, jogging is fun. And healthy, too!

Crop report

Bill Snodgrass, legislative aide to State Rep. JoAnn Osmond (R-

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Antioch), reports east central Illinois could experience a remarkable corn crop this year. Knowing this column's interest in things doing with agriculture, Bill brings back crop intelligence from sojourns to home territory south of Charleston.

Cumberland County corn tassel out before July 4. Prospects are strong for a bumper wheat harvest in the area around Greenup. Bill, retired superintendent of North Chicago High School, found corn around Kankakee, usually at least two weeks ahead of Lake County, to be struggling for knee high status by the Fourth. Bill, as we do, always marvels at the wide variances in crop growth in various parts of the state not all that far apart. Illinois apparently is made up of a bunch of mini climates.

Fighting club drugs

Ecstasy and other club drugs are making big inroads in the Lakeland area. Nicasa, highly successful in fighting substance abuse and providing mental health counseling, is mobilizing a community effort to blunt the spread of these drugs.

Airport fun

Family fun is guaranteed at an Aviation Open House Saturday, August 9, at Waukegan Regional Airport, 3480 N. McAree Road. The big attraction for youngsters will be free rides provided by members of Young Eagles, an organization dedicated to acquainting young people with flying. Warbirds on display will include the military workhorse Blackhawk copter. There will be glider demonstrations.

Working lunch

A luncheon will be held Thursday, August 7, at Independence Grove Visitors Center, Libertyville, for north suburban team captains working on the 25th Annual Ron Santo Walk to Cure Diabetes. They'll get their assignments for the actual walk Sunday, Oct. 5. The walk has become one of the leading charities funding type 1 juvenile diabetes research.

Getting down to business

Leonard Dam is itching to start teaching a class at College of Lake County this fall designed for people in business who want to expand their entrepreneurial horizons. Dam, founder of a certified public accounting firm with offices in Libertyville and Fox Lake, unofficially is known as "Mr. Chamber Man" because he is a regular attendee of business gatherings all over the Lakeland area. He has served as president of the Lake County Economic Development Corp. The 15-week course includes business and financial planning, marketing, budgeting, cash flow projections, financing, negotiating, and growth management. Dam went back to school to become a certified NxLevel instructor.

Real evidence of Iraqi weapons

By Peter S. Karlovics

It was a picture of gruesome proportions.

A dead Kurdish mother clutched her deceased child, curled around him in a protective fashion. She could not save him, or herself. This mother and her son were two of the victims of Saddam Hussein's past use of weapons of mass destruction—the very weapons that war opponents now claim do not exist.

Apparently, in grasping for straws to oppose an American military victory, opponents to President Bush have chosen to close their eyes to this picture.

During the Iran-Iraq war, between 1983-1988, Saddam Hussein extensively used chemical weapons such as nerve and blister agent against Iran. Saddam Hussein used Tabun nerve agent and mustard blister agent to kill thousands of Iranians. In 1987 and 1988, Saddam Hussein launched chemical attacks against over 20 small villages, murdering thousands of civilians. Throughout his attacks on the Kurds, Saddam Hussein used multiple chemical agents such as mustard agent, nerve agents sarin, tabun and VX, and, according to some sources, cyanide as well.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

First time success for Rep. Osmond

State Rep. JoAnn D. Osmond's (R-Antioch) very first piece of legislation, a bill to regulate the use of credit scoring on personal insurance applications, was signed into law. House Bill 1640 heightens the procedures that insurers must engage in to protect the interests of consumers when insurance producers are utilizing credit-scoring information as a factor in the pricing, renewal or issuance of insurance policies.

"This bill was important to me not only because of the protection it provides for consumers, but also because it was an issue that my husband Tim worked on during his years in the legislature," said Osmond.

The former Illinois law permitted insurance companies to conduct a credit background check on those individuals applying for insurance, and if approved, what amount their premiums should be. House Bill 1640 prohibits insurance companies from using an individual's credit background as a sole factor in determining whether to provide coverage.

Under this legislation, "personal insurance" means private passenger automobile, homeowners, motorcycle, mobile-home-owners and non-commercial dwelling fire insurance policies, and boat, personal watercraft, snowmobile and recreational vehicle policies. Such policies must be individually underwritten for personal, family or household use.

Osmond:
Freshman term finds success in first bill.

Del Re:
Works to shake operation gaffs in law enforcement.

Low:
Eyes her future in mayor's chair after classroom.

Oberweils:
Enjoys backing in Lake County for senate bid.

Big senior benefit

As he added his support to passing a House Bill to provide a prescription drug benefit and other improvements for senior citizens in Medicare, Congressman Phil Crane (R-Ill.) said a side benefit will be ensuring the long-term fiscal viability of Medicare. Under H.R. 1, a typical senior currently spending $1,285 per year on prescription drugs would save more than 37 percent on his or her annual drug costs—about $473 per year. In addition, a senior spending $2,000 per year on prescription drugs would see his or her annual drug spending cut in half or by 54 percent by saving $1,080 off of their out-of-pocket prescription drug costs.

Perfect name

For five female chamber of commerce executives banded together in a management networking group, LACE sounds like a perfect name. Stands for Lakes Area Chamber Executives. Members are Barbara Porch, Antioch; Shirley Christian, Grayslake; Debbie Mickesch, Fox Lake; Connie Meadle, Lindenhurst/Lake Villa, and Liz Evans, Round Lake Area. The group meets monthly to compare notes and plan joint activities of interest to west Lake County business people.

Dog days

Sheriff Gary Del Re seems to be dogged

by controversy. His campaign for re-election a year ago was marked by a towing scandal and internal personnel problems. While not tainting the sheriff personally or the department, the unexpected resignation of Corrections Director Charles DeFilippo is another disruption in operations. DeFilippo, 44, once had political aspirations of his own with plans a few years ago to run for Mayor of Winthrop Harbor.

High on Low

Newly appointed interim McHenry Mayor Sue Low has strong ties to Lake County where she has been a teacher for 31 years and currently teaches life skills for the Special Education District. Low, formerly a member of the McHenry city council, became interim mayor when former Mayor Pamela Althoff accepted appointment as state senator to complete the term of State Sen. Dick Klemm of Crystal Lake, who resigned for health reasons. Low says she intends to retire from teaching in two years and run for mayor.

Backing Oberweils

Two Lake Villa Republican activists have signed up as Lake County coordinators for the Jim Oberweils bid for the GOP nomination for U.S. Senate in 2004. Ted Livengood and Fernando Salazar helped generate attendance at Oberweils' official announcement July 17 in Chicago by making travel arrangements.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Beware the 'Hulk'—superhero takes a bad turn

All right I admit it. I took my two little boys to see the new movie "Hulk," rated PG-13, without previewing it myself first. What a mistake. Beware parents, this movie has highly inappropriate adult themes unsuitable for anyone under 18 much less 13-year old. Don't take your kids to see "The Hulk" without seeing it yourself first. The dark themes about abuse and repression are too intense for children.

My 11-year old winced during the scene where the father stabs and kills the mother of the little boy right in front of him. It doesn't get much better later, when the father, played by Nick Nolte, (even more crazy and homicidal than usual) tells his now grown up son that he never liked him as a person and only likes the green monster part of him. My 8-year old couldn't make out the dark, violent fighting scenes or follow the distorted flashbacks to violent childhood abuse that the main character David Banner kept having. Needless to say, we left before the movie ended.

It takes a lot for me to walk out on a $28.50 movie, and I have some complaints to make. Maybe I should have known better, but I was lulled by Universal Pictures and Valhalla Motion Pictures movie marketing machine.

This is a dark, violent movie that cares nothing for children's sensitivities. Therefore it should not be marketed at children. If Marvel Comics and director Ang Lee created this dark story for adults, they should make sure the general public is not misled into believing the Hulk is a superhero for children. Making top dollar with product tie-ins, toys and promotions aimed at children and pre-teens is movie-makers' top priority and has gone way beyond the boundaries of decency. In "Hulk," the constant physical violence and frenetic scene changes, loud sound track and dark special effects hit the viewer with almost physical intensity.

Shame on the movie companies who promote this film with tie-ins to children's meals at fast food places, toy displays that thrill an 8-year old, and a movie promo on TV that shows nothing of what the movie is really about. No wonder, the movie is so violent and upsetting, there was almost no way they could cobble together enough scenes to make a preview that would still entice the kiddies.

Granted, I am not that familiar with the old Marvel comic Hulk. Instead, I remember a 1970s series I watched each week with my dad. It was about a doctor, David Banner, a hero and really good man who got into an accident in his lab, which created his alter-ego, the Hulk. Banner spent his time helping people in need and doing good deeds while looking for a cure for his condition. I was looking forward to introducing my sons to this superhero that I remembered from my childhood.

It seems movies are trying to ramp up intensity to compete with video games. After the family abuse part and murder, the rest of "The Hulk" movie depicts the American government aiming every bit of firepower and artillery at this poor green guy. As the bullets hit him, he tries to get away, wearing this puzzled, bemused look, as if he doesn't understand what is going on. I am hurt and puzzled as well. How could Universal Pictures market such an inappropriate picture at kids? I encourage parents to write to the company. Maybe if enough people speak up things will change.

Not for the few

I commend Steve Carlson, Lake County Board member-District 7, for his common sense stand on the proposed multi-million dollar transformation of the Fort Sheridan Golf Course into a "country club" type course.

This is a waste of the revenue from the referendum that passed last fall and strays from what the taxpayers thought the revenue would go toward, which was open space. This money needs to be put toward the intended use and wish of the taxpayers, not the limited few that can afford the exorbitant fees to golf at the revamped course.

SBC falsehood

Not only does Bill Daley, president of SBC/Ameritech, (and brother of Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley) play political hardball, he seems to be using us (his consumers) as pawns in one of his games.

A little over two months ago, I received a telemarketing call from SBC/Ameritech regarding their new high speed DSL/Yahoo Internet connection. I subscribed, received their package and spent two hours installing their hardware and software. It didn't work.

After spending another five hours on the phone with several of their technical support people, I found out it was not yet available in Island Lake.

Recently, residents of Island Lake (myself included) received a very large postcard from SBC/Ameritech with the same offer for their high speed DSL/Yahoo Internet connection.

Thinking that their service area had expanded, I again subscribed. But this time I asked that they first send out a field technician to insure their service is now definitely available in this area. On June 30, an SBC technician appeared at my door and gave me a copy of his "Customer Work Record" verifying that indeed it was available.

Once again, I invested two hours installing their stuff, then another four hours on the phone with SBC. Again I was told their DSL service is not available here. I no longer believe SBC. Either they are lying to us, don't know what they are doing, or are too lazy to do it.

What I'd like to know is: does anyone in Island Lake, near Route 176 and Roberts Road, have SBC/DSL? If so, please contact me at: lorn22@aol.com or pass this information to the editor of this newspaper. Maybe we can get Bill Daley and SBC to either "put up or shut up." I don't think customers should have to waste 15 hours of their precious time playing SBC's silly "game."

Safety first

For years the Mundelein American Legion Post 867 has run the 4th of July carnival. A lot of people have asked how safe are the kids. I know it is first class. Skinner Amusement has been around for a long time and is on the State of Illinois amusement and rides committees that oversee all companies that operate in the State of Illinois for safety and compliance for all rides.

To prove my point of their safety and caring I would like to report the following. On Sunday, July 6, when the big storm came into Mundelein that cancelled the parade and forced the closing of the carnival when a tornado warning was sounded, the carnival workers instantly stopped the rides and took the children across the street to the church basement for safety.

I would like to thank the men and women who did this for the safety of your children. Can you ask for a better caring company?

COMMENTARY

In 1992, after the Iraqi defeat in the Persian Gulf War, Iraq was required to provide a full, final and complete disclosure (FFCD) to United Nations Special Commission (UNSCOM) inspectors. After the repeated Iraqi FFCDs were disproved, new contradictory disclosures were filed. Weapons inspectors, sifting through Saddam Hussein's repeated misrepresentations and outright lies, were able to find and destroy some chemical and biological facilities and agents. However, several issues were never resolved when the weapons inspectors left in 1998.

The finding of anthrax on equipment at the Iraqi Foot and Mouth Disease Vaccine (FDMV) plant at Al Daura in 1996 has never been explained. Outstanding quantities phosphorous trichloride, thionyl chloride, and phosphorus trichloride, chemical ingredients used to produce various nerve agents, have never been found. Also missing is 191 tons of NaCN and 140 tons of DMA HCl, which are the ingredients necessary to produce Tabun, a blister agent, as well as 550 artillery shells and 450 bombs containing Mustard, another blister agent.

After weapons inspectors were allowed back into Iraq in 2002, Saddam Hussein's pattern of deceit and obfuscation continued, and UNSCOM was unable to complete its mission. The Coalition Forces needed to take action to resolve these issues.

To those who remain skeptical of Saddam Hussein's capability to develop, maintain, and use weapons of mass destruction, remember the picture of the dead Kurdish woman clinging to her dead son. This picture is worth one thousand words of evidence.

VISTA

Harrington said. "They were looking for test cases." He noted that other hospital organizations, such as Highland Park and Evanston, also underwent scrutiny.

"We spent untold hours of staff time and over $1 million in legal and consultation fees to make our case with the FTC," Harrington said. "They finally agreed we were not going to be a test case."

Formal notification is expected in August.

According to Harrington, the investigation validated Vista's approach.

"They said our price increases were not 'as robust' as others," he said. "There is recognition that, given the community and the payer mix, this town couldn't afford two hospitals three miles apart."

Harrington reaffirmed Vista's intention to upgrade the Victory Memorial Hospital facility on Sheridan Road, and move services now located at St. Therese into Victory.

"We are committed to this," he said. "If you keep doing what you have been doing, you get the same results. The results have been economic loss."

The plan to close St. Therese is integrated with one to open a new hospital in Lindenhurst, to serve the western portion of the county. At present, about 20 percent of Waukegan's hospital patients come from the area to be served by the new hospital. Other hospitals serving northwestern Lake County are Condell, in Libertyville, and Centegra's Northern Illinois Medical Center, in McHenry.

Harrington said there were no specific plans for St. Therese once vacated, and said there had been no indication of interest from any serious buyer.

Vista and Provena are now negotiating the final settlement on the St. Therese property. Provena has made it clear it does not want to hold onto the hospital, and does not believe two full-service hospitals are viable in Waukegan.

A dispute regarding distribution of the assets and debts of the departing partner is holding up completion of the dissolution.

"The end result of this will be binding arbitration," said Harrington.

When Vista lost the financial resources of Provena, closer attention was paid to the bottom line in considering the cost of renovating and upgrading each hospital.

While the original plan was to consolidate at St. Therese, which Harrington freely admits is the better choice geographically, the cost of bringing outdated and under-maintained infrastructure up to par was considered too great, especially without added capital from Provena.

The cost of preparing St. Therese for consolidation was estimated at $49 million, versus $33 million to consolidate services at Victory Memorial.

"Some people might say, it's only $16 million, but $16 million that you don't have is a lot," Harrington said.

Once the dissolution of the Provena-Victory partnership is complete, the next step for Vista is obtaining a Certificate of Need. This process can take up to six months. Only then, can the construction process begin.

"If we were to start today, it would take up to three years to consolidate," said Harrington.

training policy across all programs.

"In the past, there was a greater distinction between officer and enlisted training," said Harms. "Today, it is critical that all of our Sailors, both officer and enlisted, are highly educated and afforded the opportunity to develop professionally and personally. In fact, many enlisted Sailors become Naval officers at some point in their careers. It makes sense to have all of our entry-level training experts working together in the same organization."

Under the new structure, the following initial training programs report to NSTC: Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.; Transient Personnel Unit, Great Lakes, Ill.; Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps programs at colleges and universities throughout the country; Naval Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps programs at high schools throughout the country, U. S. Territories, and at Department of Defense Dependent Schools overseas; Officer Indoctrination School, Newport, R.I.; Navy Chaplain School, Newport, R.I.; Broadened Opportunity for Officer Selection and Training (BOOST) program, Newport, R.I.; Naval Science Institute, Newport, R.I.; Seaman to Admiral 21 program; Officer Training Command (OTC) - Pensacola, a new command that will also report to NSTC, was provisionally stood up on February 10. OTC-Pensacola has responsibility for officer accession programs that were previously assigned to the Naval Aviation Schools Command, Pensacola. The programs include Navy Officer Candidate School; Limited Duty Officer and Chief Warrant Officer School; and Direct Commission Officer School.

"Changing the way we do business can be challenging," said Harms. "And we're dealing with some of that as we proceed through this Training Revolution. This is a change that's very good for our Navy and for all Sailors, officer and enlisted. NSTC unites two great teams that will now function more effectively and efficiently, thereby creating a win-win situation for the Navy and its Sailors."

'Salute to America's Troops Night' at Wilmot July 26

On Sat., July 19 Wilmot Speedway will host Wisconsin Fans For Auto Racing Night (WFFAR). All WFFAR members will be admitted to the grandstands free with their membership cards.

The first ever "Date Night" promotion with persons ages 16-22, with age ID cards, will be admitted to the grandstands 2-for-1 provided they are with a date. A special Date Race is planned with contestants participating in a "3-legged sprint."

Divisions slated for action on the one-third mile banked clay oval are winged outlaw sprint cars, IMCA modifieds, hobby stocks and the new BIC 4-cylinder class. "Flying Ed" Rossi is scheduled to perform his highflying motorcycle extreme stunt show.

A special "Salute to America's Troops Night" is planned Sat., July 26. All active military personnel and veterans of U.S. Armed Services will be admitted free to the grandstand on July 26. Special pre-race ceremonies are planned. "This is a small way for our staff, competitors, crews, sponsors, and fans, to be able to show their appreciation to all of those who continue to protect our country's freedom, and who have served to keep it free in the past," said Gary Brown and Mike Simons of Local Motion Entertainment (LME), Inc., Wilmot Speedway promoters.

Al Schlafer of Sussex had no trouble finding victory lane even though he had not visited it at Local Motion Entertainment's Wilmot Speedway one-third mile clay oval since 1989. The veteran winged outlaw sprint car warrior scored a come-from-behind victory in the 25-lap feature. Also finding the winner's circle was Ed Devall of Waukegan, who chalked up his second 20-lap IMCA modified feature win of the season. And William Groleau of South Beloit scored a second straight main event win in his El Camino, taking the checkered flag in the 15-lap hobby stock headliner.

Marty Butler of Lake Villa made his car No. 13 a lucky one as he scored the new Basic International Cars (BIC) 4-cylinder class feature win.

"On the restart, Rick (Kelsey) drifted high in turn two and I was able to diamond my car into the lead on the low side," Schlafer said with a huge grin in victory lane. "The car was running super. That was a lot of fun. I hope the fans enjoyed it nearly as much as I did from inside the car."

Point leader Rick Kelsey took the initial lead in the sprint main. On the second circuit, Brian Kristan, who had won the last two regular features at Wilmot, had the car hook its right-rear tire in the heavy, wet track surface in turn four, resulting in the car doing a quick snap-roll. Kristan landed on all four wheels. Following quick work by Kristan's pit crew, aided by several other teams, he changed a flat left front wheel, straightened out the slightly bent top wing and restarted dead last in the field.

Kelsey powered out in front with Al Schlafer, his son Danny, and Bill Wirth hooking up in a three-way battle for second. Kristan quickly sliced through the field, improving to fifth by lap five. A broken shot relegated Kristan to the infield where he became a spectator for the remainder of the event. "The car was really hooked up on the high side," said Kristan. "That bit me in turn four, but it was still running strong after we restarted. The broken shot ended our night."

Kelsey was really hooked up as he circled the one-third mile oval, sticking to the high side much of the time. Danny Schlafer retired to the pits with mechanical problems, leaving Al Schlafer and Wirth to dual for second. With two laps to go, the two came together in turn four with Wirth ending up with front end damage ending his night on the hook of the tow truck.

On the restart, Al Schlafer shot to the low side in turn one with Kelsey sticking to the high bank. Al Schlafer shot into the lead out of turn two. As the white flag flew, Kelsey coasted into the pit area entrance off turn one as a broken magneto had his machine running on less than all 8 cylinders.

At the finish it was Al Schlafer with the victory. Tim Ammon came across second, while John Edquist had a career best third-place finish. Kevin Hinich came home a career best fourth, while heat winner Doug Dean came across fifth. Kelsey ended up credited in eighth. Rob Hartnell scored his first ever Wilmot checkered flag with a win in the first heat race. Body Craft of Antioch and Edwards Jones Investments-Randy Cashmore representative of Gurnee serve as co-sponsors of the winged outlaw sprint car series.

"I saw Jimmy Morrison's front end inside me a couple times," said Devall after scoring the IMCA modified win from ninth starting spot in the feature field. "The track was really fast. I have to thank Mike Simons and Gary Brown, the promoters, and their staff for working really hard to give us a safe, raceable surface even after all of the heavy rains we had this week. I'm a little winded, but it still feels great to win again."

Tom McKinney took the early lead in modified main until a broken suspension forced him to pull out as the green flag flew following a turn two minor incident. Dave Holden inherited top spot with Devall and Morrison in hot pursuit. Devall worked in front on lap four just prior to a caution on lap five, as it appeared the full moon was casting its spell on the race's progress. Devall weathered cautions on laps nine and 10 until the last half of the race stayed green.

Devall held off Morrison for the win by less than a car length. Point leader Mike Sullivan finished third after starting 12th. Nick Simons overcame early race problems resulting in his restarting at the back three times to place fourth, while Larry Surleta improved from 11th to finish fifth.

Chuck Ostergaard of Antioch won the "B" main. Heat wins went to Antioch's Scott Kuxhouse, Devall and Tom Brown.

Jeff Saylor, a regular with the Midwest Enduro Stock Car Series, made his first ever start at Wilmot memorable with a second place finish. Foster ended up third, Todd Hensley fourth, and Todd Roe fifth.

Wilmot promoters announced cars meeting the enduro series rules will be recognized and allowed to compete in the hobby stock class.

"It's a lot different then Friday nights on the asphalt at Lake Geneva (Raceway), but it is still a lot of fun," said Butler after scoring a BIC record establishing time of 3:46.87 for the 10-lap distance. "It's a lot more slippery surface then what we're used to, but we'll get the hang of it."

Butler took the lead in his first ever time competing on dirt. Three laps from the finish, Steve Bayer shot to the inside in turn one as the two four-cylinder powered machines battled side by side. Bayer momentarily took the top spot. On the next circuit, Butler went back in front.

At the finish it was Butler across first in the non-stop event. A fast closing heat winner Bob Koch, who was also competing on clay for the first time, fell short in his bid for a sweep. Koch ended up a close second after coming from last in the starting field. Bayer ended up third. Nick Petska finished fourth and Adam Miller fifth.

The BIC 4-cylinder class is a new division competing at Wilmot regularly. The rules and the division itself are a cooperative effort with Lake Geneva Raceway promoter Kevin Dawson and Local Motion Entertainment, Inc. co-promoters Brown and Simons. The cars compete weekly on Fridays at Lake Geneva on the asphalt. Under the same rules, the BIC cars have the opportunity to race a second night on dirt. Rules are available at www.lakegenearaceway.com.

The new Wilmot Speedway grandstand family ticket continues to be available. A Family Ticket costing $25 will admit two adults plus as many children ages 0-15 accompanying them.

Grandstands open at 5 p.m. each race night with the first race scheduled for 7. For latest information contact the 24-hour race line at 262-862-2446 or the web site at www.wilmotspeedway.com.—Mike Babicz

Invaders burn up the track

The Waukegan Invaders summer boys track team is at it again. The team is made up of several area grade school and high school standout athletes.

First-year trackster Darren Patterson is turning in a sparkling summer season. At the state meet in Bloomington, Patterson captured first-place finishes in the 100, 200, 400-meter individual events. At the nationals in New York, he took second after a close, photo finish in the 200-meter with a time of 24.82 seconds. In the 400-meter dash, he fell out of contention in the prelims.

"My goal was to run against some of the best in the nation and see how I measured up," said Patterson, who will be a freshman at Waukegan High School this fall.

Other results from the nationals in New York included: Patterson fourth in the 100-meter dash in the youth boys division; Donovan Wilson, Xavier Jones, Demetrius Young and Deondre Nabriot seventh in the 1,600-meter relay for bantam boys; and Michael Clayborne 11th in the shot put for the bantam boys division. The 1,600-meter relay team of Wilson, Jones, Young and Nabriot earned seventh-place with a season best time of 5:50. Clayborne, competing in his first year in the shot put, took 11th.

In addition to Patterson's three victories at the state meet in Bloomington, other winners included: Wilson, Young, Nigel Williams and Trevonde Hood first in the bantam boys 1,600-meter relay; Wilson first in the bantam boys 100-meter dash; Williams third in the bantam boys 100-meter dash; Young fourth in the bantam boys 100-meter dash; and Clayborne first in the bantam boys javelin and fifth in the bantam boy shot put event.

Jones also took home three first place medals in the Peewee boys group (age 7-8); the 100, 200 and 400-meter runs. Gregory Kennedy also picked up a trio of first-place medals competing in the midget boys division; 100, 200 and 400-meter runs. Finally, Deshawn Towers earned fifth-place in the shot put while competing in the midget boys division.

The Invaders are somewhat a young team this season, with many first year runners. But Head Coach Ken Almond is very proud of this year's accomplishments. He was quick to compliment his coaching staff, which includes Mike Wilson, Linda Kimmons, and Sanford Fienkely. Special thanks also go out to parent volunteer Curtis Patterson.

Other results

The season started out with a bang at the Bloomington meet. Earning first-place medals included: the 400-meter relay team of Wilson, Young, Williams and Allen Jordan; the sprint medley team of Clayborne, Hood, Nabriot and Williams; the 1,600-meter relay team of Wilson, Young, Nabriot and Jordan; Kennedy in the 100 and 400-meter runs; and Patterson, who took first in the 100 and 400-meter dashes.

The "Three C's"-a weight loss plan that works

What prompted me to write again about losing weight is the garbage that is consumed on a regular basis by some of the wonderful people I work with at this paper. The most popular item is microwave popcorn. Before nine in the morning, the smell of freshly made buttered popcorn permeates the air in the stairway leading up to the editorial and sales offices. Later in the day, there's often a second batch popping. Of course, the number one topic of office chatter is about losing weight.

The description, no doubt, is a familiar one and if you're a normal person, functioning in the society we live in, you spend the day at your desk, munching snack food, and your only aerobic activity is talking on the phone. Yes, flapping your jaws is an aerobic event because the word "aerobic" means "with air", and it involves the heart, lungs and muscles. It's not however, a recommended vigorous exercise to burn all the carbohydrate/saturated fat laden calories in those daily handfuls of popcorn.

So what else is new? Perhaps you are among the ranks of over 80 million Americans, determined to lose weight, yet really unwilling to give up a relaxing, eating whatever you want life style. Surely, there has to be an easy way-a new, innovative and painless solution to losing weight.

The magazine at the supermarket checkout line captures our attention because of an enticing title about a "new" miracle weight loss plan. Then, to our dismay, we don't find any new revelation in the article that will solve the weight problem once and for all. It's just another successful marketing ploy that sells a lot of magazines.

In our endless quest to find an easy solution, we spend countless dollars on fat burning supplements that promise we can eat everything and still lose weight. Our favorite radio disc-spinning personality just started taking it, and in no time he's lost 50 pounds and went down 3 sizes! And of course, there are those infomercials with a new gadget to make us all ripped just like the people on TV.

ON CALL

I'm guilty! I've fell for it on more than one occasion. Like I always say, once maybe, twice, stupid! All the three "easy" payments of $39.95 are stashed in the back of my walk-in closet.

It's plain and simple, ladies and gentlemen. Anything that claims it's easy and promises quick results with little or no effort, doesn't work-no miracles-no shortcuts.

The only answer is what I've labeled, the "Three-C's". It's about calories, carbohydrates, and cardiovascular activity. Cut the calories, cut the carbs, and increase the exercise routine. It's the only program that has ever worked for me and other people I've known who have successfully lost weight and have been able to maintain their weight loss.

Back when I was a rather chubby kid, it was my mama who always told me. "If you want to lose weight, don't eat so much!" Okay, mom, you were always right, but don't we all know that? If you lower your caloric intake, you're going to lose weight. It's a no brainer.

It's the other nutritional component to this weight loss plan, reducing carbohydrates, that has caused a major stir over the past three decades.

That's because ever since Nathan Pritikin in the late 70's criticized Robert Atkins for his low carbohydrate diet (the Atkins' diet has been around for 30 plus years), we have been indoctrinated with the Pritikin notion that eating fat is bad for us. So now that we've been eating foods low in fat and high in carbohydrates, Americans are fatter than ever.

What we've found out is that the reverse is true. It's not the fat that's the culprit. It's the carbohydrates. That's why the books, Dr. Atkins' New Diet Revolution and Doctors Heller and Heller's, The Carbohydrate Addict's Lifespan Program, promoting essentially low carbohydrate diets, are best sellers-cutting the carbs works!

Last of all, there's the cardiovascular aspect of getting and staying in shape that nowadays is called aerobics. My personal trainer, my teacher and my mentor, Dr. Robert S. Gajda, doesn't like the term, "aerobics". He prefers "cardiovascular exercise" because it causes us to breathe harder and our hearts to beat faster. So we'll call it "cardiovascular exercise" that increases our metabolic rate, and thus burns more calories.

So basically, it all boils down to changing our eating habits to consume less calories, eating foods that are low in carbohydrates, and adding some cardiovascular exercise to our daily routine that provides the key to long term success. Just follow my Three-C's plan, and you definitely will lose weight. If however, you absolutely feel you will die if you do not have your daily popcorn fix, just try to eat less of it (good luck), and run up and down those hallway stairs a few more times. Since our building doesn't have an elevator, we like to call it our newspaper's physical fitness plan for employees.

Oh yes, always consult your doctor before beginning any new weight loss or physical activity program. I'm supposed to tell you that.

Managing dust-associated allergies

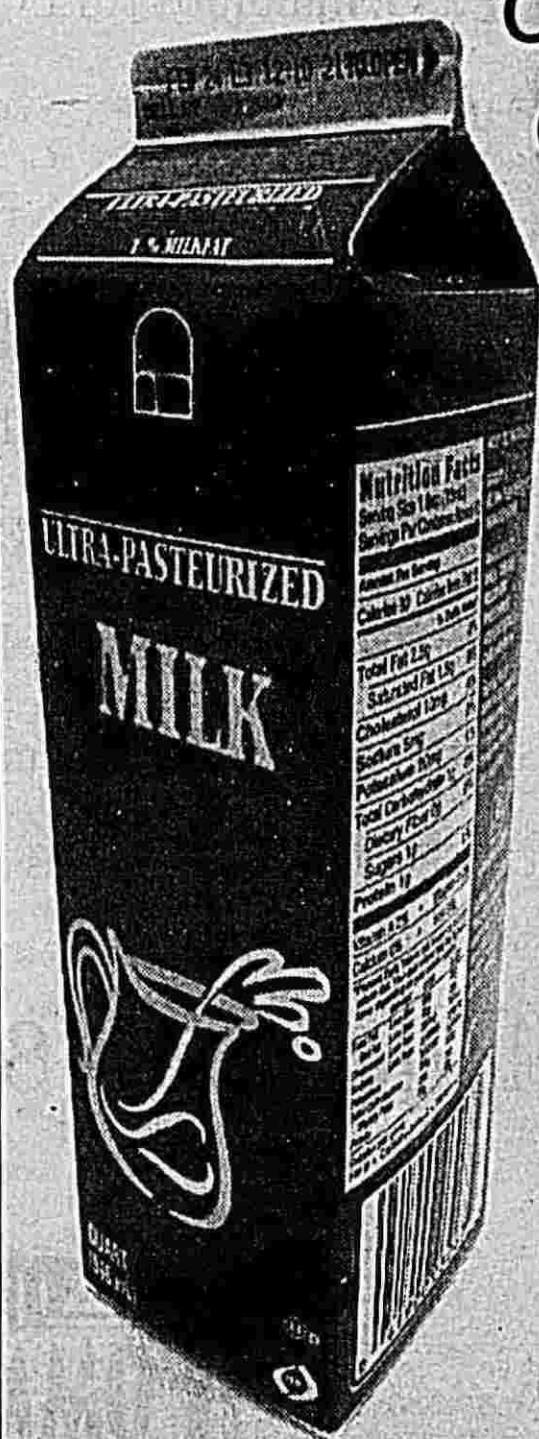

For millions of Americans who suffer from hay fever, sneezing, wheezing and watery eyes are a way of life. But they don't have to be. Most patients can enjoy normal, active lives through a combination of medical treatment and avoiding allergy triggers by preventing them from entering the home and removing allergens that do get in.

Doctors at the Division of Allergy and Immunology at the University of California at Davis, one of the world's leading allergy research institutions, recommend frequent deep cleaning of the home, including vacuuming at least twice a week. According to a recent U.C.-Davis clinical study, using a built-in central vacuum system offers the best means to remove household dust, dust mites, pollen and pet dander, the leading triggers of allergic rhinitis. The U.C.-Davis study participants used Beam Serenity Series Central Vacuum Systems during the clinical study.

Doctors at the U.C.-Davis also offer other recommendations to reduce the severity of allergy symptoms including:

- Maintaining relative humidity at less than 50 percent. Dust mites cannot survive in a low-humidity environment.
- Cleaning and maintaining forced-air heating systems and air conditioners at least once a year.
- Dusting furniture with a damp cloth rather than a dry one.
- Installing and using bathroom and kitchen exhaust fans that are vented to the outdoors.
- Enclosing pillows, mattresses and box springs with mite-proof coverings and washing bedding at least once a week using water at least 130 degrees.
- Replacing fabric-upholstered furniture with leather upholstery or with furniture made of plastic, wood or metal that won't trap allergens.

Two Chicagoland dealerships presented with Elite Award

In recognition of Rosen Mazda's commitment to achieving outstanding customer satisfaction, the automotive dealer with locations in Waukegan and Lake Villa have been named to the Mazda Motors' exclusive "Elite Club." This marks the sixth consecutive quarter that Rosen's Mazda dealerships have been awarded the "Mazda Elite" dealer award, based on their excellent customer satisfaction performance and commitment to making every customer's experience the best it can be.

"Mazda Rosen is extremely honored to be recognized as being among the best Mazda dealers in the nation, and we are very proud of our 14 years of providing customers throughout northeast Lake County with high quality Mazda automobiles and professional, dedicated service," said Rosen Mazda's general manager Don Kramer.

To achieve Mazda Elite status, a dealership must meet certain rigorous criteria regarding the dealership's level of customer satisfaction. These criteria vary based on the size of the market served by the dealership. This is a significant achievement for Saul Rosen and his staff, and it brings benefits to both the dealership and the community it serves in northeast Lake County.

Mazda North American Operations (MNAO) is responsible for the sales and marketing, customer parts and service support of Mazda vehicles throughout the United States. Headquartered in Irvine, Cal., MNAO has more than 700 dealerships nationwide and awarded only 89 dealerships with this award.

We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals

If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.
*Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare.
*Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

Performance Proceeds Promotions

By Scott T. Fleischmann

I can only wish that I had a dollar for every time that I have had to explain the performance / potential axiom. That truism is, simply stated, "Employers pay for performance not potential." They promote on the basis of the same basis. Most of us believe that we have the potential to do the job one or two levels above our current job. In the 1970's, Jim Croce confirmed that attitude with one of his ballads. He told the story of a man who "just got out of a county prison, doing 90 days for non-support." This man got a job at a car wash "scrubbing tires and wiping glass." That, of course was only an interim job, which he planned to keep until society recognized his real skills. His potential, he reckoned, was an "executive position, puffing on a big cigar." Admittedly, this example is exaggerated. Yet there are many of us who believe that we are qualified for greater responsibilities (and subsequently greater compensation.) Instead, like Croce's example, we have the "steadily depressin', low-down, mind messin', workin' at the car wash blues." But, how are we to actualize our goals? How can we get the next promotion? Are the sacrifices that we need to make to get the promotion, worth the rewards? Performance is a pre-requisite for promotion. By performance we mean:
• Work Diligently - Demonstrate that accomplishing assigned goals quickly is a high priority. Those who work tirelessly to do well will be rewarded. Those who do not, will not. In other words, work harder.
• Show Discernment - Look for better ways to accomplish the work that needs to be done. Croce's subject could have demonstrated this trait by switching the order of his tasks. Since water flows down, wiping the glass before scrubbing the tires would prevent the glass water from getting on the clean tires. Look for every advantage to improve the process and to show ingenuity. In other words, work smarter.
• Serve Others - There are those in every job who need help. Help them. Some can learn the job if they only have someone who will take a little time to explain it to them. Explain it. Others need a helping hand until they can be completely effective. Lend a hand. In other words, assist others.
• Give Positive Feedback - Tell others when they do a good job. Look for reasons to give compliments. In other words, encourage others.
• Grow - Those who want to move to the next level need to grow. Athletes need to get into better physical condition. Doctors need to learn new surgical procedures. Accountants need to understand the newest IRS regulations. Every job has opportunities for growth. In other words, improve. All of this may seem tedious and difficult. It is. But for those who want to be promoted these suggestions are the needed preparations. Leaders accomplish tasks through others. Management is difficult work. Those who want more compensation need to understand the rules of the game. We already have enough people in "executive positions, puffing on a big cigar." We need more leaders. We need more role models. We need more mentors.

FAMILY IN NEED!

Hard working mom seeks 3-4 bedroom home or a 2 flat in Lake County. It's like this.
My children and I are expect-to some disability, we hope to find a ranch or 2 story with

We're so happy to have grandma come. Although we have great references and good credit, we can only af-included or $1,000/mo. with water/heat included. We'll sign lease, first, last. We're clean, professional. No an-good family with home.

The Taste of Summer is a composite of food, entertainment, carnival, sidewalk sales and many other activities that make up a great 4 day festival for the whole family, July 17 through July 20 is the right time to spend in Antioch. This year, Antioch is proud to welcome American English to their entertainment line-up. American English will be featured on Sunday, July 20th from 3:30pm till 6:00 pm.

Food booths will offer the consumer a wonderful array of foods featuring Mexican, Chinese, American, German, BBQ, Greek, and many others that will delight the most discriminating palate. Be prepared to wander under the big top tents while sampling many delightful delicacies.

Entertainment will be ongoing throughout the four day festival. Thursday kicks off the festival with a carnival, bingo, and highlighting the evening with Mr. Myers Caribbean Rock. Friday night showcases Mike Myers of US 99 along with Bernie Gilm and the Country Roads Band. Earlier Friday night you'll enjoy the music of the Michael Lescher Band. Saturday is a full day with entertainment throughout the day and the evening showcases our own local Grease Band, followed by the always popular BBI. Sunday promises to be a full day with carnival, food, entertainment by our own Lakes Area Community Band followed by the sensational American English.

Skidmore. This allowed the Taste to expand and include the Brook's Bandshell and Park. Consumers enjoyed the park-like setting and the extra room to enjoy a day or evening at the Taste. This year's Taste promises additional entertainment the larger location allows for. Make sure you mark your calendar for July 17-20 to bring your family and friends to Antioch's Taste of Summer.

Antioch's Taste of Summer is only one of the many events in the busy Village. Antioch prides itself in being a "Family Community" providing family oriented events throughout the year.

FridayFest kicks off the Summer beginning June 20, held at the Brooks Park and Bandshell. Big name bands will be featured on Friday evenings beginning at 7:30, preceded by Farmers Market from 3-7 most Fridays throughout the summer. Friday promotions throughout the downtown will enhance your enjoyment of your Friday spent in Antioch this Summer! Plus Friday evening concerts from 7:30-9:00 p.m. at the Brook's Bandshell.

Fall is just around the corner and welcomes the arrival of Antioch's Fall Arts and Crafts Faire which will be held September 6 and 7 in downtown Antioch. No matter which the season, Antioch is the place for family fun year-round.

Antioch's Taste of Summer and Arts and Crafts Faire are hosted by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry. Questions related to these events can be directed to the Chamber at 847-395-2233. FridayFest information is available at the Village of Antioch by calling Billie Horton at 847-395-6342. For more information you can contact the Chamber at www.antiochchamber.org or the Village of Antioch at www.antioch-il.org.
